Peaceful Attempt At Solution Crisis In Europe Is Made

LONDON, Sept. 14.—It was officially announced tonight that Prime Minister Chamberlain would fly to Germany tomorrow to see Reichsfuehrer Hitler. The Prime Minister himself announced he intended to see Hitler and "try to find a peaceful solution to the crisis which is menacing world peace."

BERLIN, Sept. 14.—The German Broadcasting Service announced tonight Chancellor Hitler had received an urgent message from Prime Minister Chamberlain asking a talk with the Fuehrer at the latter's pleasure as to time and place, and that this offer had been accepted by Hitler. Chancellor Hitler replied he was ready to see Mr. Chamberlain tomorrow at Berchtesgaden, his Bavarian retreat, the announcement said.

LONDON, Sept. 14—A Reuters dispatch from Prague today reported Sudeten German party headquarters said "a regular battle" was in progress near Falkenau, northwestern Czechoslovakia, between Sudetens and Czechoslovak troops and police. Sudeten leaders said heavy tanks were being used in the conflict and that between 10 and 15 Czech gendarmes had been killed, according to the dispatch.

The trouble was said by the Sudetens to have begun in a fight between "Communists" and Sudetens.

Gendarmes Attacked By Angry Crowds

The gendarmes attempted to separate the belligerents without using their weapons, the reports said, but were forced to retreat into a police station where they were attacked by the crowd.

Shooting then broke out and several policemen were shot down as they attempted to escape from the building.

Machine Guns, Grenades Seized

The crowd seized weapons in the police station, including two machine guns and a number of hand grenades. The Sudeten version said police reinforcements arrived a short time later from Falkenau and Zwodau and opened fire on the Sudetens, who returned the fire.

The Prague foreign office reported eight gendarmes were killed in a clash with 2,000 Sudetens at the frontier town of Schwaderbach, where the Sudetens occupied the Czechoslovak gendarmerie station.

RED PROVOCATION

Sudeten headquarters charged in a statement that the Haberspirk clash resulted from "Communistic provocation."

Reports of the Schwaderbach clash said the gendarmes after battling to control the Sudeten demonstrators, finally replied to their fire.

Other scattered fighting added to the outbreak of disorder.

Police and Sudetens fought in a building at Tyuschkau, and there were clashes also at Groskau and other places in Sudeten German territory.

Virtual mobilization of Czechoslovak troops in Sudeten territory appeared to be under way. Thousands of troops were seen being transported by railway trains and by highway to the troubled centres.

NO CONFIRMATION

There was no confirmation in Prague of troop mobilization in the Sudeten country, and foreign office spokesmen denied numerous reservists had been called to duty.

One report said two Czechoslovaks were killed in a clash at Komotau but there was no immediate confirmation. Martial law was extended to that district today.

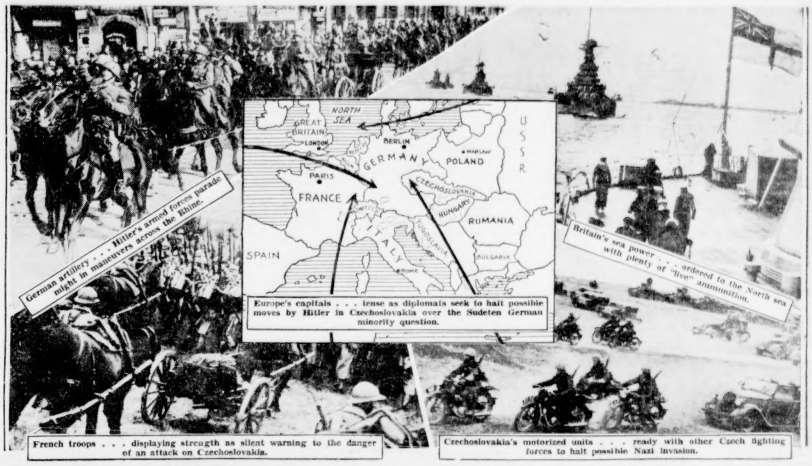

DEATH LIST MOUNTS

The foreign office early this afternoon reported the affair at Schwaderbach was only a Sudeten German demonstration but later it corrected its report to say at least eight of the Czech gendarmerie were killed and said the death list probably would be higher.

Troops March Again: New War Scare

WAR RUMBLES FROM PRAGUE TO CANBERRA

PRAGUE.—Sudeten negotiations committee dissolved, ending settlement efforts; 15 Czech police killed in clash with Sudetens. ☆ ☆ ☆ LONDON.—Cabinet holds second emergency session in three days; King George prepares to return from Balmoral, Scotland. ☆ ☆ ☆ PARIS.—French complete plans for mobilization of 2,000,000 more men, if necessary; reported urging Sudeten plebiscite. ☆ ☆ ☆ CANBERRA.—Australian cabinet decides to support United Kingdom in any action deemed necessary. Britain was told.

Once more the world is jittery over a European war scare, as the Czechoslovak minority question reaches the crisis stage. British and French cabinets met in emergency sessions, agreeing that they will unite to defend any Hitler invasion of Czechoslovakia. At the same time, possible allies such as Russia, Poland, Yugoslavia and Rumania, stood by awaiting developments. Meanwhile, European might was being displayed, in manoeuvres on many fronts. Some of the preparations are illustrated here.

Last - Minute Flashes On War Crisis

BERLIN, Sept. 14.— American travellers have been advised "unofficially and informally" by the United States consulate here to return home "if they could conveniently alter their European travel plans," officials said today.

PARIS, Sept. 14. — The French government was reported in informed quarters today to have completed plans for speedy mobilization of 2,000,000 more men, or eight classes of army reserves, in case a new grave turn in the European situation makes it necessary.

BERLIN, Sept. 14. — A D.N.B. (official German news agency) dispatch from Eger, Czechoslovakia, said today the Sudeten German party reported a total of 13 Sudetens were killed yesterday by "state police, customs and treasury guards and communists." The dispatch said four Czechs also had been killed.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14.—A bomb-proof cement and steel shelter is being built under a wing of the United States legation in Prague, Czechoslovakia. The shelter—replacing a wine cellar—was included at a cost of about $600 after partial reconstruction of the legation was started.

BUDAPEST, Sept. 14.—Fears the Czechoslovak crisis will end in war mounted in south-eastern Europe today. In Bucharest,

ESKIMOS WILL GET REINDEER RANCHES SOON

OTTAWA, Sept. 14—Canada's northland will soon have something new—Eskimo ranchers—when an agreement now being negotiated between the department of mines and resources and Eskimos is completed.

R. A. Gibson, director of lands, parks and forests branch of the department of mines and resources, just back from a trip to the Northwest Territories, said arrangements for a loan of a herd of 800 reindeer to Charlie Rufus and his father, Rufus Akealik, were discussed while he was in the north.

Charlie Rufus has received training as an apprentice reindeer herder and he and others trained in the care of reindeer will be given a chance to start on their own. The 800 animals to be lent under the present agreement will come from the government herd on Richards Island north of Aklavik, N.W.T., where the animals have been summering. The herd numbers 4,500 head, too many to retain on the government reindeer reserve.

GIRL VICTIM OF HICCOUGHING IN HOSPITAL

VANCOUVER, Sept. 14—Agnes Tully, 16-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. V. Tully has been in hospital here since Sunday, hiccoughing continuously except for brief periods when she is resting under opiates.

The girl has suffered recurrent attacks for more than a year and several months ago underwent an operation in an attempt to stop an attack which lasted for nearly six weeks.

On two other occasions she has been confined to bed for several days with similar attacks.

Province Has No Information On Pipe Line Plan

Hon. N. E. Tanner, minister of lands and mines, stated on Wednesday that he had received no information or any representations from, or in respect to a German company desirous of building a pipe line from Turner Valley to Port Arthur or elsewhere. Premier William Aberhart likewise declared that he had no knowledge of the reported representations by the company regarding construction of a pipe line.

Milk Prices Up

WINNIPEG, Sept. 14.—Increased prices for delivered milk in Greater Winnipeg go into effect Thursday when they advance from 10 to 11 cents a quart. Store prices remain unchanged at 10 cents.

ONE TICKET FOR TWO RAILWAYS NOW CONSIDERED

Pursuant to a request from Vancouver, the Edmonton Chamber of Commerce will consider what steps should be taken to secure the privilege for railway patrons of taking a round trip from here to the coast on both transportation lines at no extra cost.

This question came up for discussion at Wednesday's meeting of the council of the Chamber at the Hudsonia.

It was said that eastern cities have the right to use both lines, and it was felt that the same privilege should be extended to the west. Edmonton citizens, it was stated, must return by the same company lines used in going to the coast.

The matter was referred to the Chamber's transportation committee for consideration, and it was suggested that recommendations on this matter might be made to the board of railway commissioners.

SOMERVILLE IS ELIMINATED BY JOE THOMPSON

OAKMONT GOLF CLUB, Pittsburgh, Sept. 14—Stocky Joe Thompson of Hamilton scored a surprising one up victory over Ross "Sandy" Somerville of London in an all-Canadian first round match in the United States amateur golf title tourney today.

Thompson carded a 78 and Somerville 79 over the par 72 layout.

The Canadians, who had the misfortune to be drawn against each other after qualifying for the match-to-match combat in two days of medal play, fought a nip and tuck battle over the soggy course, which absorbed its third successive day of rain today. Sandy had a short putt on the green for a par that would have kept the match alive but it went off line on the damp carpet.

APARTMENT TO BE ERECTED IN GARNEAU AREA

Building permit was issued Wednesday to H. W. Brooker, for a two-storey apartment building at 10024 87 avenue, across from Garneau school. The building is to be of frame and stucco construction, with four suites on the ground floor and six suites on the second floor.

The application and site were approved by the mayor and commissioners and the two lots on which it is to be built were bought from the city land department. Cost of the building is to be $17,800. Architects are Rule, Wynn and Rule.

Recently Mr. Brooker sought to build a one-storey "court" type of multiple residence on four lots which he sought to buy from the city. Council, however, refused to sell the lots when Garneau residents objected to the type of building planned.

Japan Ready To Join Germany, Italy

Nippon Admiration For Hitler's Demands Expressed In Tokyo

TOKYO, Sept. 14.—Japan's readiness "to fight, in every way, with arms if necessary," against Communism was revealed today in a statement by the foreign office spokesman.

Japanese "admiration and sympathy" was expressed for Chancellor Hitler's demands for settling the Sudeten German problem.

He said Japan, as a signatory of the Nov. 25, 1936, agreement pledging co-operation against Communism, would assist both Germany and Italy in fighting Communist activities and was equally ready to help either nation individually if "she became involved without the other."

The announcement held Communist activities responsible for the Czechoslovak-German crisis and said Japan was prepared to join Germany and Italy, her allies under an anti-Communist pact, in "fighting against red operations."

The spokesman said, however, it was "premature to answer" the question whether Japan would declare war if Great Britain and France should become involved in conflict with Germany over the Czechoslovak situation.

"If the situation makes it necessary, Japan is ready to fight in every way, with arms, if necessary," he added.

PORTRAIT KING, QUEEN REPLACES THAT OF HITLER

KITCHENER, Ont., Sept. 14—Fifty Kitchener school children paraded through residential streets last night carrying posters and placards which carried the inscription: "Phooey to Hitler." Kitchener was called Berlin until the Great War.

PIPE SMOKER AT 8, MAN DIES IN HIS 105TH YEAR

SAINTFIELD, Ont., Sept. 14—Richard Connors, a pipe smoker since eight years old, died Tuesday in his 105th year at his home in this village. Relatives said he attended the funerals of many men who didn't smoke," he once said.

Canucks Best Drivers Motor Contest Proves

QUEBEC, Sept. 14.—United States motorists are quicker on the brakes but Canadian motorists are the better drivers, judging from the result of an international safe-driving contest staged here Tuesday during an insurance company's convention.

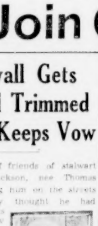

Three convention delegates from the United States chosen at random for a braking test showed one-half second reactions in applying the brakes and a 56.6 per cent average in steering. The Canadian team averaged 68 per cent in steering and five-eighth-second in braking.

Stonewall Gets Beard Trimmed But Keeps Vow

Hundreds of friends of stalwart Stonewall Jackson, nee Thomas Ashton, seeing him on the streets on Wednesday thought he had grown his wartime vow never to shave again when they saw him wearing a long Jasper apparently devoid of his neatly trimmed Prince Albert beard.

But no razor had sullied the chin and cheek of Stonewall. He had simply gone to a barber and asked for clippers all over and cut it back to half a inch. The heat is rather trying.

Stonewall made the vow never to shave again when crimed in the army by a British shavetail because he had taken off his stubble the night before instead of the morning, as required by King's Regulations and Orders.

JOBLESS FIGURE NOW DECREASING REPORT REVEALS

Registered unemployed in this province on Saturday last totalled 5,866 according to figures released on Wednesday by officials of the Alberta Employment Service. This is a decrease over the figures for the previous week, when the total was 6,523.

This city once more topped the unemployment centres with a total of 2,509 males and 296 females, while Calgary ran second with 1,929 males and 213 females.

Lethbridge had 418 males and 37 females. Medicine Hat 182 males and 15 females, and Drumheller 316 males and three females.

Of the total registered unemployed 5,334 were males and 964 females.

During the week positions were found for 977 males and 131 females.

Wheat Soars 5 Cents At Winnipeg, Chicago

WINNIPEG, Sept. 14.—Reports of new Czechoslovak-Sudeten German disorders today and zooming outside markets caused general buying on Winnipeg grain exchange today to shoot all wheat futures up the five-cent allowable limit.

October and November options held their full gain to close at 68⅝ and 68¾ cents, December finished 4⅞ higher at 66¾-⅞, and May, 4⅞ higher at 69⅝-¾ cents.

Prices were at their highest levels in three weeks.

CHICAGO, Sept. 14.—While excited brokers jammed the grain pits in scenes reminiscent of Great War days, the price of wheat shot up more than three cents a bushel again today on reports of increased political tension in Europe.

Big scale operations were in progress in the wheat pit.

After an early drop of more than two cents a bushel, the market rallied as much as 5½ with December wheat reaching atop of 68⅞, or more than seven cents above its recent five-year low level.

ALBERTA GRAIN GIVES JOBS TO 100 WORKLESS

Rush Of Wheat To Vancouver Aids Jobless Situation

Exclusive to Edmonton Bulletin

VANCOUVER, Sept. 14—The rush of Alberta wheat to Port of Vancouver is giving employment to 100 local men who were idle most of last year and this in the grain elevators alone.

Elevators operated last season with barely skeleton crews, as only about 11,000,000 bushels of wheat were exported through this port.

With expectation that 50,000,000 bushels or more will be shipped to Vancouver this season, more men have been hired.

The Alberta wheat flow into Vancouver this year is already almost 13 times as great as in 1937.

From August 26, when the first shipment of new crop wheat was received here, up to last Saturday, 1,245,000 bushels had rolled into this port against only 90,000 bushels in the same period last year.

Up to Saturday, 465,000 bushels had been shipped abroad, an os-

Shriners Aid Lions

WINNIPEG, Sept. 14—Shriners have come to the rescue of city parks's two lions which the city planned to get rid of because of the cost of building a home for them. A. G. Lush said today the Shriners were considering construction of a $20,000 building for all the animals and the park zoo.

BIG VALUE IS PLACED ON 5 MAJOR CROPS

Production In Prairie Provinces Worth $278,000,000 This Year

By FRANK FLAHERTY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA, Sept. 14. — A total value of $278,000,000 was placed on the production of the five principal crops in the three prairie provinces this year in an official estimate today.

This is $35,000,000 greater than the value of the same crops in 1937 given by the Dominion bureau of statistics, which estimated last year's production at $243,000,000.

PRICES LOWER

Lowering this year tend to offset the beneficial effects of higher yields so far as the financial returns to farmers are concerned. The whole of the prairie farming area, however, will share in the returns from this year's crop, whereas last year a large part of Saskatchewan experienced a total crop failure.

The estimate is based on the value

Britain Aims To Strengthen Her Position In Mediterranean Basin

PORTUGAL, OLD ALLY, MAY BE AIRPLANE BASE

German and Italian Threat Causes British Action To Guard Interests

BY JOSEPH GRIGG, JR.

British United Press, Exclusive Cable to The Edmonton Bulletin

LONDON, Sept. 14—Britain, seeking to counteract German and Italian pressure endangering the Mediterranean "Empire lifeline," has intensified her political and economic drive to consolidate and strengthen her position throughout the Mediterranean Basin and southeastern Europe.

British diplomats believe firmly that in the future they must reckon with Spain, at least for the next few years, when they feel German and Italian influence will be dominant. The same influence also has become deeply entrenched in Portugal. Britain's ancient ally.

NAZIS BUSY ON DANUBE

Since the anschluss of Germany and Austria, Germany has intensified an economic drive down the Danube toward the Balkans, which many political observers fear is likely to become a sphere of political and economic influence shared by Germany and Italy.

Confronted by these facts, the British government has instituted a drive to reassert British influence, particularly in Portugal, the Balkans, Turkey and Egypt.

Officially, it is stated that Britain has no intention to thwart Germany's and Italy's legitimate economic interests in this area. Privately, however, well informed sources close to the government admit that Britain cannot afford to remain inactive in the face of heavy pressure from Berlin and Rome on the countries bordering the Mediterranean.

PORTUGAL OLD ALLY

The starting point of the drive is Portugal, linked to Britain by a mutual alliance since the fourteenth century. Early this year a British military mission went to Lisbon to examine the possibility of filling Portugal's requests for war materials, and assistance in reorganizing the Portuguese army. The mission, however, was embarrassed due to the tremendous demands of Britain's own rearmament program and temporarily was unable to fill Portugal's requirements.

It is understood that some time later the Portuguese general staff hinted that if Britain were unable to supply needs Portugal might be compelled to turn to Germany.

PLAN AIR BASE

The British government, awakened to the necessity of consolidating her influence in Portugal, instructed the military mission to reach an early agreement on the supply of war materials, reliable sources said.

There are persistent rumors abroad that Britain is trying to arrange for an air base in Portugal to compensate for Gibraltar's inadequacy to maintain a large air fleet. It is also rumored that Portugal shortly will approach Britain for a loan to assist colonial development.

Skyliner For Service Here

15-PASSENGER PLANE TO FLY NORTH ROUTES

Leigh Brintnell Pilots New Skyliner To Edmonton Tuesday

A huge, green and gold, 15-place Bellanca airplane landed at the Edmonton airport shortly before 6 p.m. Tuesday, to go into immediate service on the northern routes operated by Mackenzie Air Service.

The plane is almost a sister ship to the famous Eldorado Radium-Silver Express but is a later model and built for greater speed and a slightly larger load.

180 MILES AN HOUR

Powered with a Wright Cyclone motor which develops 875 horsepower for takeoffs, the plane cruised at 180 miles an hour equipped with wheels, on the flight to Edmonton, when it was piloted by Leigh Brintnell, president of Mackenzie Air Service, and C. R. Hoffman, Bellanca's test pilot, from Newcastle, Delaware.

Passengers on the plane were Mr. and Mrs. C. Bruce Hamilton and sons at 6:30, leaving only about 13 hours in which to store up warmth.

Highest temperature Tuesday was 77 at 3 p.m., from which it slipped to Wednesday morning's low of 43 at 3 a.m., rising again to 81 at 3 p.m. Forecast for the city is again "fair and warm."

All near north points reported frost and calm, while Ft. Norman, in the far north, sent in a reading of 32, only freezing temperature, in that area.

TAKES OFF EASILY

"We flew from Fargo, North Dakota, to Edmonton in eight hours and 10 minutes," Mr. Brintnell reported. The distance is 1,200 miles and we had a head wind part of the way. The plane handles beautifully and takes off easily, with full load."

It has a pay load of 4,020 pounds on wheels and a fuel range of six and a half to seven hours, he added. Great equipment and other accessories for northern flying, its cost will be about $65,000.

The plane will be flown to Cooking Lake Wednesday and immediately changed to floats, ready to fly north on Thursday.

City Solicitor Preparing Issue To Cover Loans

City Solicitor Thomas Garside Wednesday was preparing debentures for the City of Edmonton to be sent to Ottawa to cover $193,185 in loans for which special orders-in-council already have been passed by the Dominion government.

The debentures will be ready for the next meeting of city council on September 26, when they must pass three readings. Following this they must receive the approval of the Public Utilities Commission before being forwarded to Ottawa.

Time for tenders to supply six new trolley busses, purchase of which is planned under one of the Ottawa loans, has been extended from September 19 to 30, it was stated Wednesday by Commissioner John Hodgson.

Early Risers Get Hint Of Winter As Mercury Takes Dip

Early morning risers, unaware of winter's nearness, had memories jogged Wednesday morning as they watched their breaths rise in little white puffs. The frosty mornings may be explained to some extent by the sun's later rising and earlier setting, Sun. Sunrise Wednesday 6:07 and sets at 6:50, leaving only about 13 hours in which to store up warmth.

Highest temperature Tuesday was 77 at 3 p.m., from which it slipped to Wednesday morning's low of 43 at 3 a.m., rising again to 81 at 3 p.m. Forecast for the city is again "fair and warm."

All near north points reported frost and calm, while Ft. Norman, in the far north, sent in a reading of 32, only freezing temperature, in that area.

FACILITIES AT CALDER SCHOOL ARE INCREASED

Building To Get Two, Possibly Four, Extra Rooms —Call Bids

Calder school will have an addition of two rooms, and possibly four, it was decided at the regular meeting of the Edmonton Public School Board Tuesday.

That will be one money spent on a makeshift, when we might just as well build a permanent extension," Trustee Bruce Smith said, referring to the suggestion that the Calder community hall might be fixed up for the present year.

SPENDING LITTLE

Trustee Dr. Walter Morrish's reaction to the idea was that "we spend a little here, a little there, and in the end have absolutely nothing to show for it."

"We ought to do at least two rooms, preferably four," Chairman A. E. Ottewell stated. "No time must be lost. We should call for tenders immediately."

The Calder community hall will be used for a classroom in the meantime.

In North Edmonton, the situation is also very unsatisfactory, and the only building that is available for that part of the city is the old library building, which would need a good deal of repair, reported by Secretary Bowcott, chairman of the property committee. Mr. Bowcott made a survey of the building, and said that there was space for two rooms. The board is to get in touch with the Edmonton Public Library and see that provisions can be made in this respect.

School registration, according to figures received on Tuesday, has followed a gain of 215 over that at the beginning of the 1937 term, Supt. G. A. McKee reported. Enrolment in academic high schools was 2,302; commercial, 581 as against 601 the previous year; technical, 337 against 291; intermediate, 2,202 against 3,345; elementary, 8,839 against 8,755.

APPLICATIONS

List of 81 applicants for the position of principal stenographer recently vacated by Miss Eva Bashor, will be dealt with by a committee consisting of Supt. McKee, Assistant Supt. R. S. Sheppard, J. Percy Page and Secretary Harry C. Tweed. Financial circumstances of the applicant will be taken into consideration.

J. W. Mitchell was appointed to the permanent caretaking staff, and will take up his duties at King Edward. James Douglas was moved from Strathcona to Strathcona annex number two, and William Inkpen goes from King Edward to Strathcona high.

After due consideration by members of the board, Duncan R. Innes, teacher at Garneau high school for the past ten years, was appointed head teacher at Strathcona high school, annex number 1, with emolu ments of seven high school rooms in the Garneau public school building. Mr. Innes received his education at Colchester Academy, Acadia University and the University of Alberta.

REPEAL PARTS ALBERTA ACTS IS REQUESTED

Delegation Asks Withdrawal Of Restriction On Sale For Taxes

Repeal of the amendment to the Tax Recovery Act and related provisos of the Town and Village Act passed in 1938, that no sale of land be effected by a town council except by individual by-law and then only when such proposed sale has received ministerial consent, was requested by a delegation representing the Union of Alberta Municipalities, which interviewed Premier William Aberhart and members of his cabinet Wednesday at the legislative buildings.

Heading the delegation was Mayor D. H. Elton, K.C., of Lethbridge, while included in the group are Mayor J. W. Fry of Raymond; J. P. Evans, Athabasca; J. E. Fraser, Wetaskiwin; Mayor Austin of Didsbury; Neil D. Primrose of Vegreville, and others.

RESOLUTIONS

Hon. Lucien Maynard, minister of municipal affairs, met with the delegation, and discussed various matters, after which the delegation interviewed Premier Aberhart and all members of his cabinet.

Declaring that it was impossible for municipal authorities to obtain accurate knowledge of the content of amendments to the Tax Recovery and Town and Village Acts, the delegation requested that such amendments should become effective in the year next following the passing hereof so that municipal authorities should be informed of proposed changes and also be advised promptly and be empowered to withhold such levies, assessments and returns.

Mr. Maynard informed the delegation that he proposed to submit various recommendations to the executive council dealing with the Tax Recovery and Town and Village Acts.

EXEMPTION ASKED

Another resolution presented to the government was that all municipal bodies be exempt from all such imposts and taxes as sales tax, stamp tax and other taxes and levies payable to either the federal or provincial government and that the senior governments be respectfully requested to provide for such exemption by statute.

HOLIDAYS

Regarding statutory holidays the delegation urged that the Dominion government enact legislation to provide for observance throughout Canada of Dominion Days, except those in observance of events of national historical significance, on the Monday of the week in which the holiday falls.

INSURANCE FOR JOBLESS TO BE PUSHED AHEAD

Government Will Not Relax Efforts Hon. Norman Rogers Says

By HAROLD J. FAIR

Canadian Press Staff Writer

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., Sept. 14.—The Dominion government will not relax its efforts to obtain nation-wide unemployment insurance, Hon. Norman Rogers, Federal minister, today assured the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada.

"We will not relax our efforts," he declared. "The setback we received last year (when several provinces declined to agree to amending the constitution to make such a system possible) was a bitter disappointment to me as minister of labor in a government which was making every effort to secure this by co-operation."

RULED ULTRA VIRES

Mr. Rogers recalled that after the Privy Council ruled the social insurance law of the former Bennett government ultra vires the dominion government, it became necessary to find out how a system could be devised.

The delegation sent out a proposal to the provinces for a constitutional amendment. Six of the nine provinces approved the draft in the British North America Act. Three provinces declined for various reasons.

In two provinces it was suggested there was breach of provincial autonomy involved.

NO JUSTIFICATION

"There is no true justification for saying that there is any infringement of autonomy in asking the provinces to co-operate in a measure that is for the good of the people for the good of the labor movement as a whole and, in the last resort, for the good of the province of Ontario," said Mr. Rogers.

The Dominion received a setback in the national unemployment insurance system, "but a setback is not a defeat unless we permit it to be such."

He was hopeful Quebec, New Brunswick and Alberta, which so far had not indicated a desire to assist in bringing about the necessary amendment to the British North America Act, would understand they would be acting in the best interests of the country.

Rebecca Lodge Holds Rites For Elsie Whiteley

A service by the members of the Rebecca Unity Lodge, No. 28, marked the funeral of Elsie Whiteley, who died Monday. She resided at 9223 110A avenue. Following the usual service conducted by Canon C. F. A. Clough, at 2:30 p.m. in Howard and McBride chapel, members of the lodge filed to the altar, and each laid a flower upon the casket. Taking active part in the short rite, were Miss Ivy Nield, Mrs. Annabelle Evans and Miss Faye Miller, Mrs. C. Manahan and Mrs. Mary Spratt sang during the service.

Pallbearers were: J. Roberts, J. Penman, G. McArthur, Mr. Williams, J. Phillips, A. Woodward and interment took place in the Beechmount cemetery.

LARGE REVIVAL FOR PIANOS IS NOW REPORTED

G. B. Heintzman Says Youth Demanding Music Culture

Canadian youths' demand for musical self-expression, together with radical changes in the construction of pianos to meet the requirements of the modern trend in small homes, has resulted in a great revival in the industry, stated G. B. Heintzman, Toronto, vice-president of the Heintzman Piano Company, Ltd., who arrived in Edmonton Wednesday in the course of his annual inspection trip through western Canada.

The piano business is definitely on the road to recovery, he stated, which reflects the general uptrend in Canadian business.

Main reasons for this recovery, he stated, was the demand for musical self-expression evidenced by Canadian youth, and also the changes made by the trade in appearance and design of pianos to meet the requirements of present day small houses.

WATCH STYLES

Styles in pianos, like styles in dresses, hats and automobiles are being closely watched by the purchasing public, stated Mr. Heintzman, with a consequent revival in the trade.

Another factor in the increase in piano sales is the lowering of the price to the purchaser. This has been accomplished by reorganization of the trade and the installation of up-to-date machinery, which enables production cost reduction. Prices are now 40 per cent lower than the peak of the trade in 1920, he stated.

TRADE GOOD

Trade in Alberta has been exceptionally good, he stated, and this year already three car loads of new pianos have been shipped to this province. Business is expected to continue to improve and war scares disappear, thus establishing more purchasing confidence, the piano industry will definitely have come into its own again, concluded Mr. Heintzman.

During visit to conferences with W. G. Strachan, local manager for the company, Mr. Heintzman will proceed to Calgary and from there to Vancouver and Victoria.

Playing cards were invented about the year 1392 for amusement of Charles VI, then King of France, who was subject to fits of melancholy.

TRADES GROUP IS OPPOSED TO MINIMUM WAGE

Berg Claims Minimums Generally Lower Than Union Scales

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., Sept. 14—Opposition to a minimum wage for skilled or semi-skilled male labor was voiced today by the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada. It passed a resolution reiterating the congress' previous stand on the question but approved a minimum wage for women.

The congress urged, however, that before minimum wage for women be established a survey of the cost of living should be made.

Carl Berg of Edmonton, chairman of the resolutions committee, declared minimum wages generally were lower than union wages.

ACT CHANGE ASKED

Approval was given a proposal for Timmins Local 241, International Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers, asking the Ontario government to change the Workmen's Compensation Act in respect to silicosis and tuberculosis contracted in the mines by defining three or more cases of silicosis development. Timmins proposed the act be changed to allow pensions to victims either in lump sum awards or pensions for all stages, excepting the last stage for which a minimum life pension of $60 per month would be paid.

The resolution urged tuberculosis be made subject to the same rate of award and that yearly medical reports be made direct to miners, giving them a full report of the findings of their x-ray examinations.

KEPT SECRET

The resolution said periodic x-ray examinations of miners' respiratory organs "is kept secret."

The convention considered a resolution—later approved— urging the Dominion government to change the qualifying age for old age pensions from 70 to 60 years.

Alderman Peter Grant of St. Catharines declared pensions should be reduced to 40 years. This would take care of men that age unable to obtain work.

Crop Value

of this year's crop at the farm, taking the Dominion bureau of statistics figures for crop production and using current prices at Fort William less an allowance for the average freight charge.

20-CENT DEDUCTION

In the case of wheat, the Canadian board's fixed price of 60 cents a bushel for No. 1 northern at Fort William is subject to a deduction of 20 cents to allow for freight and handling charges and the spreads between prices for No. 1 northern and lower grades. The five crops included are wheat, oats, barley, rye and flax.

The 1938 wheat production of 334,000,000 bushels will be worth approximately $200,000,000 against a valuation of $157,000,000 for last year's crop. Barley, although more plentiful will be worth less in money this year than a year ago while rye and oats will be approximately the same and the value of the flax crop this year will be higher than a year ago.

ESTIMATED VALUES

Production and estimated values of the five crops on the prairies compared with official figures for 1937 follow:

	1937	1938
Wheat production	139,000,000 bu.	334,000,000 bu.
Wheat value	$157,560,000	$200,000,000
Oats production	142,413,000 bu.	247,776,000 bu.
Oats value	$ 52,784,000	$ 82,000,000
Barley production	62,418,000 bu.	86,140,000 bu.
Barley value	$ 28,620,000	$ 51,000,000
Rye production	4,280,000 bu.	10,731,000 bu.
Rye value	$ 2,050,000	$ 2,900,000
Flax production	617,000 bu.	1,498,000 bu.
Flax value	$ 926,000	$ 2,000,000

Much of the grain produced on the prairies, of course, is never directly converted into money. The estimate represents the value of the crop if it were all sold at present prices or its probable long range cash value to the farmers.

Large quantities, particularly of the coarse grains, are kept on the farms for the purpose of feeding livestock. Eventually this grain may produce a cash return in the sale of fat hogs and cattle. The lower the price for grain the more will be fed on the farms and the less will be sold.

From the total wheat production used for next year's crop is usually retained on the farms. It is possible, however, almost the whole of this year's wheat crop may be sold if the prevailing market price continues to be lower than the wheat board price.

PAST EXPERIENCE

Experience in other years indicates only 28 per cent of the oat production reaches commercial channels and total oats sold this year may have a value of $16,000,000. From the barley crop 45 per cent goes into commercial channels or about $10,000,000 worth this year. About 29 per cent of the rye crop is sold ordinarily and this year sales may aggregate $600,000.

Alberta Grain

crease of 118,000 over the total of 247,000 bushels up to Sept. 10, last year.

There are four deep-sea ships in port, loading 317,333 bushels, and more are expected later in the week.

Saturday, 926,401 bushels of grain were stored in Vancouver elevators.

THOUSAND CARGOES

More than 200 cars a day were rolling in here during the latter part of the week. Over both railway lines, wheat cars moved out of Alberta at the rate of 10 to 15 trains a day.

The big crop will boost shipping here to unprecedented levels. It is expected that 1,000 vessels will be required to handle shipments.

Lumber is moving out at the rate of 600,000,000 feet a year, another indication of better shipping business.

It is possible to fly across continental United States in a modern transport plane in like time than you can fly across the city of Honolulu, which is 2,200 miles across.

Fort William Wheat Shipments 300,000 Bushels Over August 1937

6,878,680 BUSHELS HAVE BEEN EXPORTED

Manitoba Grain Grades High, Indicating Prairie Crop Has Quality

FORT WILLIAM, Sept. 14—The board of grain commissioners statistics bulletin reported Tuesday new crop wheat delivered to country elevators and loaded for shipment in western Canada totalled approximately 46,000,000 bushels in August. Grades were reported good.

With an estimated 250,000,000 bushels of wheat available for export, overseas shipments of 6,878,680 bushels in August represented an increase of some 300,000 bushels over August, 1937.

SPLENDID QUALITY

Thirty-six per cent of the crop was graded No. 1 hard and No. 1 Northern in inspection to the end of August. Forty-two per cent graded No. 2 northern and 15 per cent, No. 3 northern.

Only 8.3 per cent of Durum wheat graded No. 1 and 63.2 per cent graded No. 2. Twenty-three per cent rated a No. 3 grading.

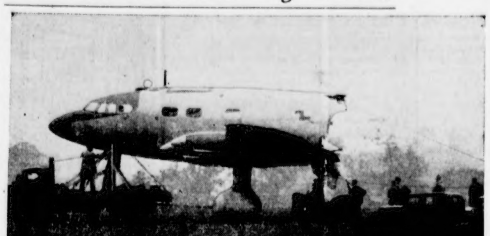

A large proportion of gradings are for Manitoba wheat because of its early movement. A more indicative grading of prairie wheat as the whole should be made at the end of September after larger shipments from Alberta and Saskatchewan are inspected.

BIG BARLEY CROP

Canada's barley crop, estimated at 108,915,000 bushels, was exceeded in quantity only in 1928 and 1930 but only 33.3 per cent of this year's barley inspections to date are sixteen varieties compared to 56 per cent last year at the same time.

Despite comparatively light movement, freight rates for ocean or lake transportation are steady. Increased traffic in September is expected to boost them.

All That Is Left of Big Airliner

Just after landing from her final test flight, the huge British airliner Albatross broke in two on the ground at Hatfield, Hertfordshire, fortunately without injuring Capt. Trade Unions Demand New Deal in Ontario: Oppose 1-Man Street Cars, Busses

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., Sept. 14.—Vigorous demand for a shake-up of Ontario's Labor and Industry Board to provide labor representation was made Tuesday by the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada after delegates levelled an attack on the Board, particularly its chairman, F. J. Young. The Board administers the province's Industrial Standards Act.

Unanimously the congress adopted a resolution from Fort Frances local 2585, Sawmill Workers Union, United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America, demanding "immediate and complete change be made in the present personnel of the board and further that a labor member be forthwith installed to act in that capacity." The resolution contended the present board "is not fully competent to deal with the questions which arise relative to the lumber industry due to their lack of knowledge of said industry."

The resolution evoked the most heated declarations of the two-day-old convention. Ernest Bogies of London called Mr. Young, former Saskatchewan resident and one-time member of parliament, "A dirt farmer from Saskatchewan." John Noble of Toronto, American Federation of Labor organizer for Ontario, said the reason Premier Hepburn selected him for the post was because the premier had sat with him in parliament "and knew he would do what he was told."

A day of speedy progress through resolutions was highlighted otherwise by charges of industries espionage and lack of protection of workers to organize. The executive board of Mike Mokray of Kirkland Lake, organizer for the Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers, asserts: "The mining industry has instituted one of the most vicious espionage systems experienced in any industry."

The congress passed a resolution condemning use of general busses, street cars and trucks. C. N. Stewart of Vancouver proposed a nation-wide campaign to get one-man busses off the highways. Resolutions were approved urging adoption to Canadian needs of all the desirable features of the Wagner act, which provides for collective bargaining in the United States, greater safety for seamen, and calling for a six-hour day and five-day week.

FASCISM NOT ADVOCATED BY QUEBEC HOUSE

Hon. T. J. Coonan Explains Freedom of Speech, Press and Assembly

SHERBROOKE, Que., Sept. 14.—Assumption that the Quebec government advocates Fascism because it is Anti-Communistic is "absurd and ridiculous," declared T. J. Coonan, minister without portfolio in the province's Union Nationale government, said last night before a service club.

"The error is readily fallen into by the illogical English-speaking people who cannot conceive a democracy being opposed to both Communism and Fascism," he said.

Taunts uttered by speakers in various sections of the dominion, impugning the freedom of speech, press and assembly in Quebec were "for the purpose of stating an opinion that these liberties are denied in this province," Mr. Coonan declared.

"Few dare to think that freedom of speech does not permit the saying of anything that comes into one's mind, for after all there is a law of slander. Freedom of the press does not give the editor the right to libel. Freedom of assembly is limited by the preservation of order, and is forbidden by law where disorder may result."

GERMAN PIPE LINE BID NEWS TO MINISTER

OTTAWA, Sept. 14.—Hon. T. A. Crerar, minister of resources, said last night he had no knowledge of a proposal from a German corporation for construction of a pipe line from Alberta oil fields to the Pacific coast.

The minister said he had not heard of the proposals made public in Calgary which indicated the German organization had offered to build the pipe-line at a cost of about $16,000,000.

"It would be a big proposition," the minister said.

JUDGE HEARS BROKER FIRM'S CASH BACKING

Graduation From Service Station Worker To Executive Related

CALGARY, Sept. 14.—Meteoric career of Levi A. Baldwin, slim young man who rose from a service station attendant to secretary-treasurer, director and chief accountant of F. C. Rubbra and Company Limited, stock brokers, was related in court here Tuesday.

The career story was told at the preliminary hearing of F. C. Rubbra, president of the company, who was charged with conspiracy following the bankruptcy of the bond firm.

NO EXPERIENCE

A service station worker at Medicine Hat, Baldwin met Rubbra in 1935. He joined the brokerage company in the spring of 1936, though he had no experience in the stock business and was without actual bookkeeping training.

Baldwin told the court, he was sent to the Lethbridge office of the company as chief clerk. Later he came to Calgary in charge of the stock and bond department.

CONTRIBUTED $5,000

He said his "contribution" to the company was $5,000 in preferred stock of the Rubbra company and an advance of $2,000 in province of Manitoba bonds. He said the bonds he contributed to the company sold for $4,000.

Baldwin said Rubbra had asked him for a loan of $3,000 in 1937 and he turned over to him province of Manitoba bonds which sold for $2,900.

The hearing will continue today.

During the past four years, 85,509 girls in Korea (Chosen) were married before becoming 15 years old, according to official reports.

DEATH RESULTS WHEN HOTELMAN IGNORES ORDER

RIMOUSKI, Que., Sept. 14.—Lives of some of the six persons who died in a hotel fire near here Sunday night have been saved had the hotel been equipped with a fire escape, a provincial government inspector of public buildings testified at Tuesday's inquest.

Inspector A. Lemieux said he had surveyed the hotel July 11 and found it lacked a fire escape. On his recommendation, the provincial government had ordered the hotel proprietor to erect an escape and take other fire precautions in 30 days. The order was not carried out, Lemieux said.

Cause of the early-morning fire was not brought out before the inquest adjourned until Sept. 22.

Injured Young Girls Cry Testifying Against Youth

WINDSOR, Ont., Sept. 14—A defence statement attributed to Melvin Powell, 20, Windsor, charged with assaulting two young Windsor girls, that he "fell on the two girls who both fell, striking their heads against some rocks," was branded fantastic by crown attorney James Allan at the fall assize court Tuesday.

Counsel finished argument before Mr. Justice G. F. McFarland, who will charge the jury today. The girls involved are Ellen Mekonen and Frances Super and the Mekonen charge is being heard first.

During the trial the judge sent the two children out to get ice cream cones and soothe their nervousness when they were unable to give evidence for crying.

They testified that Powell approached them on deserted Riverside beach and asked if they would gather colored stones for him. Then, they testified he bit them over the head with some instrument they believed to be a piece of iron, and left them.

Powell explained after his arrest that he fell down a bank, striking the girls in his descent.

CANADA KEPT INFORMED ON EUROPE STATE

Dominion Not Asked For Opinion On Britain's Policy In Turmoil

OTTAWA, Sept. 14 — Cabinet council Tuesday studied the voluminous reports coming to the government in a steady stream from London concerning the events in Europe and their possible effect upon the Empire, but so far as could be learned no request has been received for any expression of opinion.

Hon. T. A. Crerar, minister of resources, presided over council in the absence of Prime Minister Mackenzie King, confined to his home with sciatica.

CRERAR SILENT

Mr. Crerar would not discuss formally the situation in Europe or give any indication of the government's attitude. He said the private reports added nothing essential to information reaching the public through news despatches.

Mr. Crerar said he did not think dates for the four federal by-elections would be fixed until Mr. Mackenzie King returns to his office. The four by-elections are to be held in London, Waterloo South, Montreal-Cartier and Brandon.

FALL SESSION UNLIKELY

Lack of haste in filling these vacancies has added strength to the conviction generally held that a fall session, wholly rumored when parliament prorogued last July, would not be called.

Trade negotiations at Washington were progressing more speedily, Mr. Crerar said, and he was of the opinion that "in about 10 days there will be something definite." Asked to elaborate on this, Mr. Crerar said he meant that in about 10 days the negotiators should be able to present to their governments concrete basis for agreement.

BRITISH EARL CALLED HOME FROM GENEVA

GENEVA, Sept. 14—Earl de la Warr, who came to Geneva to attend the League of Nations Assembly and at the same time consult with dominions' representatives in the absence of Hon. Ernest Lapointe, Canadian Minister of Justice—returned to London last night after today's meeting of the full cabinet.

British officials said departure of the Lord Privy Seal gave "only partial idea" of the matters we consider the present situation."

Foreign Commissar Maxim Litvinoff of Russia and Joseph Paul-Boncour, French delegate, were said to have been in touch with Lord de la Warr.

TORONTO, Sept. 14.—Plans for a national peace week, starting Nov. 6, will be considered Thursday at a meeting here of the League of Nations society's committee of national member organizations.

Red-Headed Sea Dog Keeping His Fingers Crossed

MONTREAL, Sept. 14.—Red-headed Captain S. L. Spence says "they haven't got me yet," but he keeps his fingers crossed when he says it.

Captain Spence and the tramp freighter Stancroft do business with Loyalist Spain. They used to run cargoes in for the insurgents but now they dodge insurgent bombs and insurgent gunfire in Spanish waters.

"She's only a wee coaster, and she really has no business trading in gto Spain," the skipper said last night as his ship loaded zinc for the war-torn country. "But so far she has served me well, and as long as I keep quiet and my luck holds out, I guess she'll keep on serving me."

"Some bombs have come pretty close to us," Captain Spence recalled. "And those machine guns have come pretty close, too. But they've never hit us. I've had no casualties so far."

HON. C. D. HOWE RELATES PORT IMPROVEMENTS

SAINT JOHN, N.B., Sept. 14.—The American Association of Port Authorities ended the Saint John sessions of its 27th annual convention last night, and prepared to continue meetings at Halifax Thursday and Friday after hearing Hon. C. D. Howe, minister of transportell of improved operating results in Canadian ports following establishment of the centralized authority of the National Harbors Board.

"For the years 1936 and 1937, revenues of all ports increased 11 per cent while operating expenses decreased 14 per cent," said the transport minister in reviewing work of the National Harbors Board, established in November, 1935. The increased revenues and decreased expenses resulted in an improvement in operating income of $1,547,847.

OTTAWA AWARDS BUILDING JOBS: 3 IN ALBERTA

OTTAWA, Sept. 14.— The public works department last night announced that the following contracts have been awarded.

Innisfree, Alta., public building, interior fittings, The Office Specialty Manufacturing Company of Ottawa, at $888.

Peace River, Alta., public building, to E. Litchfield, of Edmonton, at $30,396.

St. Paul, Alta., public building, interior fittings, Canadian Office & School Furniture Limited of Preston, Ont., at $682.

Victoria, dredging in inner harbor, to Hall Tug & Barge Company of Victoria, at about $8,355.

Sidney, B.C., wharf repairs and breakwater removal, Horne-Lalmer Construction Company of Vancouver, at about $6,341.

Campbell River, B.C., wharf repairs, Vancouver Pile Driving & Contracting Company of Vancouver, at about $7,477.

Kamloops, B.C., field laboratory building, The Dominion Construction Company of Vancouver, at $17,800.

B.C. MAN SAILS TO DAWSON IN TINY ROWBOAT

DAWSON, Y.T., Sept. 14.—An enterprising young man from New Westminster, B.C., 25-year-old William J. Mucklow, today was seeking employment in the Klondike gold fields after a voyage of more than 1,000 miles in a 10-foot rowboat.

Mucklow left New Westminster May 28 in the small craft with "Pat," a small fox terrier, his only companion. Following the steamer course up the coast of British Columbia and the Alaska panhandle, he arrived at Skagway, Alaska, August 26 and completed the remaining 400 miles in just over two weeks, arriving here September 9.

Unable to secure employment immediately Mucklow rented a cabin in West Dawson from Librarian F. E. Envoldsen and will stay there until he finds work.

Poland Is Suddenly Faced With General November Election

WARSAW, Sept. 14—Poland was suddenly faced with the prospect of new parliamentary elections following an unexpected move Tuesday by President Ignace Moscicki in which the senate and the lower house were dissolved. Electoral reform was believed back of the move.

A decree fixed Nov. 6 as election day for the lower house, with senate elections a week later.

There was no connection between the move and the strained international situation, it was said.

17 Killed, Train Derailed As Arabs And Police Clash

JERUSALEM, Sept. 14—A clash between police and Arabs, a train derailment and new scattered acts of violence brought death to 17 persons in Palestine last night.

A British military expedition, supported by armored cars, clashed with a terrorist band which attacked an automobile caravan between Jerusalem and Hebron. Twelve outlaws were killed.

Terrorist sabotage caused derailment of a freight train between Haifa and Acre. One engineer, a mechanic and a guard were killed. Other incidents accounted for five deaths.

Ottawa To Be Asked To Curb Coal Import

THORBURN, N.S., Sept. 14 — United Mine Workers' Thorburn local passed a resolution Tuesday asking the federal government to fix the amount of coal which would be imported into Canada annually. The resolution asked the imported tonnage be reduced to guarantee miners at least five days (work) a week all the year around in Canada."

Millions Yearly Are Paid Out In Lottery Awards

SYDNEY, N.S.W., Sept. 14.—During the last few years two state lotteries have been drawn every week in Sydney. Tickets are 3s 3d each and the first prize at each drawing is £5000, with smaller prizes down to £5. For the financial year ended on June 30 a record profit of £845,000 was made on the lotteries and this sum was paid to the hospitals of the state. The distribution is done by the hospitals committees and "the profit" from the lotteries amounts to about two-thirds of the total cost to the state of the public hospitals.

King Acknowledges Canada's Message Death Of Prince

OTTAWA, Sept. 14.—The prime minister's office said last night that acknowledgments have been received from King George VI, the Duke of Connaught and Lady Patricia Ramsey to messages of sympathy sent on behalf of the Canadian government at the death of Prince Arthur of Connaught.

The message from His Majesty said: "I sincerely thank you and your colleagues for your kind expression of sympathy in the death of my cousin."

Ships Collide: One Sinks, And Other Damaged

LONDON, Sept. 14.—An unidentified ship sank after a collision with the Swedish motor ship Nippon three miles off Wandelaar lightship, according to a wireless message received today by Lloyds from the French steamship Aisne. The Aisne reported the Nippon in danger of sinking and asked for a tug. The Nippon is a 6,095 ton vessel owned by the Swedish East Asiatic company and was bound for Gothenburg.

Regret Incident

OTTAWA, Sept. 14.—At a meeting Tuesday the Ottawa presbytery of the United Church recorded "regret and shame" at disturbances which interfered with the convention of the Ottawa company of the Witnesses of Jehovah at the Coliseum here last Sunday.

A body of matter with a weight of 191 pounds at either of the poles would only weigh 190 pounds at the equator.

Sultan Consents To Brother Taking Commoner Wife

PENANG, Malasia, Sept. 14.—The Sultan of Trengganu, Malay peninsula, gave his approval last night to the engagement of his 20-year-old brother, Prince Mahmoud, to Miss Joyce Blencowe, daughter of an Oxford tailor. The Sultan said in an interview he would not object to their marriage if it was performed according to Mohammedan rites.

Prince Mahmoud, who announced his engagement to Miss Blencowe last month after a courtship in Oxford, had threatened to relinquish his royal rights and to talk poverty rather than forsake her.

Movie Operators Battle To Death As Patrons Listen

NEW YORK, Sept. 14—Balcony patrons in a movie theatre, startled by sounds of a struggle in the film projection booth, prompted a police investigation Tuesday that led to the discovery of one man dead and another dangerously injured in the tiny cubicle.

Saul Schulman, 38, was quoted by police and firemen who broke down the metal door as saying he had argued over working conditions with Nathan Klein, 33, the dead man. Both were projectionists.

Saul Schulman, taken to a hospital for treatment, was charged by police with homicide.

New German Airship Makes Trial Flight

FRIEDRICHSHAFEN, Germany, Sept. 14.—The new German air giant, LZ130, had its first trial flight today, filled with foreign guests. The veteran Dr. Hugo Eckener, commander, christened the airship "Graf Zeppelin" by smashing a bottle of liquid air over its prow. The zeppelin carried 74 persons, of whom 39 were crew members.

Fish Board Wants Practical Leader To Replace Found

LUNENBURG, N.S., Sept. 14.—The Canadian Fisheries Association, at its 23rd annual convention Tuesday, asked in a resolution for appointment of "a practical businessman engaged in the fishing industry of Canada as successor to deputy minister of fisheries (W. A.) Found, when the latter retires shortly."

The resolution followed criticism voiced by Senator William Duff last night of the appointment of lawyers and professors to important posts in the department of fisheries.

Social Security Bill Is Passed In New Zealand

WELLINGTON, Sept. 14. — The legislative council, upper house of the New Zealand parliament, Tuesday passed the labor government's social security bill.

The measure, previously passed by the house of representatives, provides free medical service for all and pensions of 30 shillings weekly for all at 60 years of age. The legislation calls for a wage tax to help finance the undertaking.

Selling Jobs Is Scoffed By Judge

TIMMINS, Ont., Sept. 14.—Condemning as a "heartless racket" the selling of mining jobs in northern Ontario, Magistrate S. S. Atkinson Tuesday sentenced Harry Huckabone to one year in prison or $500 fine. The fine was not paid immediately. Three men who claimed to have paid Huckabone for promised jobs gave evidence. Marked money issued by Timmins police was used in payment.

A Matter of Figuring

Edmonton last year, for the first time in 20 years, balanced its budget, paying its bills as they fell due and having no deficit; while during the last 17 months its bank overdraft has been reduced by $705,000.

This is a result of the debt-extending plan arranged by Mr. Fortin. That is to say, is a result of putting off to the future bond payments which the city was formerly bound to meet last year and this.

Perhaps there is a difference between postponing bonded debt payments in order to pay present bills, and piling up a deficit on current account while meeting bond payments as they come due; but the difference has no ultimate effect on the pocket of the taxpayer. The $705,000 reduction in floating debt last year and this year is offset by the amount of bonded debt instalments which are postponed for payment in future years—with no reduction in amount or in interest rate.

Like the man who gave a note and thanked God "that debt is paid," the taxpayer is supposed to rejoice because the shortages of last year and this year have been shifted from the bank overdraft into deferred bond payments. The shortages of course are there all the same.

One Scheme Or Nine?

Hon. Peter Heenan, Ontario's minister of lands and forests, says if nothing comes of the proposed Dominion unemployment insurance project that province will set up a system of its own. The Ontario Government, he says, gave Ottawa a "blank cheque" to make any needed changes in the constitution which would enable it to create a nation-wide system, but the plan was blocked by refusal of some of the other provinces to forego their presumed powers. He added "We can't wait," thus suggesting that a provincial scheme may be brought into effect in Ontario at the next session of the legislature.

It can be taken for granted, unless the Dominion is allowed to act, that all the provinces will have to set up provincial insurance systems soon or later—probably soon. The wage-earners and salary-earners will compel this. There are in prospect therefore nine separate and more or less varied types of unemployment insurance schemes in Canada if the plans for a national scheme are stalled.

The provincial governments which refused to give their consent to the necessary changes in the B. N. A. Act would do well to ask themselves whether that situation would be as satisfactory to them as one nation-wide system operated by and at the expense of the Dominion. There are several reasons to think the multiple arrangement would not be as satisfactory to their taxpayers.

The Challenge of the North

The address of Sir Edward Beatty to the Edmonton Chambers of Commerce, broadcast over the CBC, will undoubtedly help to focus attention on the northland, and on Edmonton as the gateway to that great store-house of wealth which constitutes the last unexploited hinterland on the continent. With this subject Sir Edward dealt in the language of reasoned optimism. If his words were inspirational they were not mere vehicles for wishful thinking. The resources are there, vast and varied, but they must be developed as the older west has been developed, by pioneering enterprise, the investment of capital and the application of labor.

The north is now the "land of opportunity," alike for ambitious youth and for the profitable employment of money. Something of wistfulness may be detected in the observation that "Unfortunately, in these days our youth are too often taught not to take a chance. They are led to believe that, by some ingenious device, the state will provide for them, and even ensure them some predetermined standard of living. They are informed that the desire to make profit is the root of all evil."

But youth is youth, and these dreams of the depression years will pass. The north with its opportunities is a challenge to adventurous effort with young Canadians will not ignore. Capital, it is to be hoped, will be as ready to supply the means without which the latent resources, whether farming areas or mineral deposits, cannot be brought into use.

It Just Keeps Rolling Along

Some years ago the St. Lawrence waterway project was, next to a highly protective tariff, the most popular subject an Ontario politician could espouse. Deepening the canals, it was argued quite reasonably, would make that province a seaboard province in respect to ocean commerce and overseas markets. And, perhaps for the same reason, the scheme was about as unpopular in Quebec as Communism is at present.

Yet the curious fact is that the Government of Ontario is now blocking the scheme, while the Government of Quebec is saying little about it. Perhaps Premier Hepburn is talking for Premier Duplessis as much as for himself. In any case, he has not appointed delegates to discuss the matter with the federal experts, as suggested by Premier King, and apparently has no intention of appointing any. That at least may be inferred from his recent utterances on the subject.

The waterway project seems doomed to suffer another of the delays President Roosevelt spoke about a few weeks ago. The President is busy with elections. Premier King has plenty of other things to think about. And Premier Hepburn is standing pat on his late declaration of nonconcurrence. The St. Lawrence, it appears likely, will continue for some time to carry its water to the sea untroubled in the upper reaches by the prows of ocean carriers bringing British-made goods to Port Arthur and carrying western wheat to the old lands.

The death of Mr. Charles C. Ross, former minister of lands and mines for Alberta, will occasion sincere regret among people in all parts of Alberta. He brought to the department high technical qualifications and his selection was very generally approved. His retirement in no way affected the esteem and respect in which he was held inside the legislature and out.

The Price of Apples

Statements have been appearing in British Columbia and have been reprinted on the prairies to the effect that the apple grower in British Columbia receives only 35 or 40 cents for a box of apples that sells at Regina for $1.60 or $1.75. It is well known that the B.C. apple grower has been protesting vigorously against the price he receives for his apples.

The Passing Show
By J. S. COWPER

The B.C. Legislature is to open on October 25. In preparation, Premier Pattullo has left for Ottawa to discuss matters with the Prime Minister of Canada arising out of the proposed Alaska Highway. United States has offered to make generous financial aid to the building of a main central highway through British Columbia from the international boundary to the Yukon, from whence it is proposed to extend it to the boundaries of Alaska to join the highway to Fairbanks.

A HIGHWAY TO ALASKA

Continual menace of war from across the Pacific, and fear of invasion of United States through Canada, has resulted in the establishment of an air base at Fairbanks, the increase of defences on the Alaskan coast, and the desire to have highway connection with Alaska.

The road will be in no sense "a Polish corridor." It will be as much a provincial highway as the Calgary-Edmonton highway, entirely subject to provincial control. Ottawa is hesitant, for some undisclosed reason. It may fear international complications, i.e., the giving of offence to Japan. Efforts to restrict Japanese immigration into Canada were negatived at Ottawa lest they gave offence to Japan. It is to remove, if possible, the objections of Prime Minister King to the building, with United States aid, of this main central highway through British Columbia, that Premier Pattullo has hot-footed to Ottawa before the opening of the B.C. legislature.

Albertans have an interest in this Alaskan Highway development. Canada is wide open for invasion on its Pacific coast. It has two six-inch guns mounted at Stanley Park, but not a single anti-aircraft battery, though the great inlets on the west coast of Vancouver Island would make safe hiding places for a hostile airplane-carrier or several of the new subs, that carry folding seaplanes as part of their armament. In the event of a war on the Pacific in which Great Britain and United States were allies, or of a force at war with United States seeking to strike at United States through Canada, we would be dependent on the pledge of President Roosevelt to protect Canada from invasion.

Albertans have commercial interests, too. The Alaskan Highway through B.C. would make accessible timber areas, mining and coal areas and attract large numbers of tourists. It would be possible to link up Alberta's road and water systems with these developments as they become economically profitable. Like British Columbia, Alberta's wealth lies in the north.

Already, the Minister of Defence, has been converted to the completion of the unfinished 49 mile link in the Edmonton-Vancouver highway. Instead of Canadians travelling on a U.S. highway to get from one Canadian province to another, we may see Americans travelling on a Canadian highway to get from one State to another. No international complication attended the passage of Canadians from B.C. to Alberta and back. Washington may why should one attend the passage of Americans from Washington to Alaska through Canada?

Current Comment

Moving the Capital

A member of the British Columbia Legislature has made a suggestion that the Dominion capital should be moved from Ottawa to Winnipeg.

The Vancouver Sun has given its approval to the suggestion. The Ottawa Journal opposes, as the natural thing for a paper so located to do, and the Winnipeg Free Press approves; also natural. . . .

"Does location mean nothing?" asks the Winnipeg paper.

The News-Chronicle may be permitted to express some agreement with the views presented from Winnipeg, more especially the implications contained in the question: Does location mean nothing? It should.

Location almost exactly midway between the Atlantic and the Pacific should mean something.

It should mean something to have Parliament Buildings on high lands from where the finest marine view between Quebec City and the Pacific coast is obtainable. It should mean something to have at hand the inspirations and the reminders contained in the presence of the world's largest body of fresh water, Lake Superior, and such headlands as Thunder Cape and Pie Island. It should mean something to legislators when going to and coming from their labors that they were being carried on at that point where East and West can meet on common ground, where the influence of neither would be predominant but where both would be heard and respected.

That would be at Port Arthur; a full 24 hours by train west of Ottawa but still in Ontario, so that there would continue to be four provinces west and four provinces east and not three west and five east as at Winnipeg.

The seat of government in this country certainly should be changed—to Port Arthur.—Port Arthur News-Chronicle.

Old Country Letter
By J. E. NORCROSS

J. E. NORCROSS

LONDON, Eng.—(By Mail)—It is not the fault of scientists if the beneficient gifts of science to man have been turned to evil uses. This was the theme of the presidential address to the British Association delivered by Lord Rayleigh.

The whole idea that scientific men are specially responsible for the application of science to warfare, he said, was a delusion born of imperfect knowledge of the real course of the process of discovery.

Lord Rayleigh quoted from Shakespeare's King Henry IV, on the invention of gunpowder, to show that the complaint was no new one:

". . . great pity, so it was,
This villainous saltpetre should be digg'd
Out of the bowels of the harmless earth,
Which many a good tall fellow had destroyed,
So cowardly."

This quotation, he continued, led one to inquire how far the further development of this particular kind of frightfulness into high explosives was deliberate or not.

No one could foresee the result of the systematic study of the chemistry of carbon compounds which had produced both nitro-benzine, the key to the aniline dye industry, and nitro-glycerine, the basis of dynamite, a high-explosive invaluable in mining and the making of railway tunnels.

As to poison gas, Lord Rayleigh said, chlorine was discovered 140 years before the Great War and was not isolated by chemists for war purposes. Mustard gas was mentioned in Watt's Dictionary of Chemistry, published in 1894. It was plausible to suggest that mustard gas was a scientific development deliberately contrived to cripple and destroy, but it was merely one that had been discovered along with sixteen other sulphide compounds.

Nothing could be further from the truth than the notion that thermite was invented for incendiary bombs. He had heard a lecture on "Metals as Fuel" in 1901 and he ventured to say that neither the lecturer nor any of his hearers had the least idea at that time that thermite had any application to war.

Military objects, Lord Rayleigh continued, were certainly not the incentive of the pioneers of successful flight. "In 1904," he went on, "I myself first saw the First Sea Lord of the Admiralty repudiate with scorn the suggestion that the government were interesting themselves in the matter . . . and as late as 1908 the Chief of the Imperial General Staff did not believe in the military importance of flight. . . .

"The world is ready to accept the gifts of science, and to use them for its own purposes. It is difficult to see any sign that it is ready to accept the advice of scientific men as to what those uses should be." he concluded.

Your Health
By DR. FRANK McCOY

In banishing the basic toxemia responsible for rheumatism, gentle eliminative measures are not of much value. The entire body must be cleansed and to accomplish this purifying process, all proteins and starches must be prohibited at the start. The best plan to follow in order to bring about this toxemia elimination is the fast on fruit or fruit juices.

I find that the fruit juice regimen produces the quickest results possible and tomato juice, canned unsweetened pineapple juice, orange juice or grapefruit juice may be used. The patient is to take one eight ounce glass of the chosen juice every two hours. He is to drink plenty of water in between the fruit juice feedings in order to bring about a more rapid flushing through the kidneys.

At least one enema or shower bath daily must be used, and in addition it is advisable to take one plain warm water enema a day, and preferably two. This fasting schedule must be continued for five days. As a general rule, muscular soreness will disappear the first day or two of the fast. However, in spite of rapid improvement, the patient should continue until the five day period is up.

Some patients will improve if the fast is omitted and the diet is made by beginning on a carefully restricted diet, however, I find the best results are obtained when the fast is used first.

When the patient has completed the five days of the juice and is ready to begin early, I find it desirable to allow him a moderate amount of meat. Many patients have the idea that it is a good plan to stay away from meat entirely but after my experience with hundreds of cases, I do not believe this drastic change is necessary. The amount of meat is best kept to one-quarter of a pound a day, although this may be increased to one-half pound in some cases. No more than this should be allowed. The one-quarter pound refers to lean beef, that is, beef without any bone, fat or gristle, and this amount will be found sufficient to provide all the meat protein the body requires. Any of the following may be substituted for the beef: Fish, chicken, turkey, or rabbit.

For the first few weeks, the patient must be very careful not to indulge in too many starches. Their absence will not be missed as much as would otherwise be the case, if the patient learns to eat plenty of the non-starchy vegetables, both in the cooked and raw form. The intestinal elimination should be watched very carefully and if the bowels do not move of themselves, then the enema should be taken. A clean colon is an important help during this period when the patient is trying to get well, as intestinal toxins seemingly have the power to stir up the rheumatic toxemia. Whenever possible, the colon should be cleansed without resorting to regulation by laxative medicine.

Warmth is also of value in keeping the patient free from discomfort and he should avoid exposing the body to cold or damp.

Those capable of disciplining themselves rigorously enough to follow the advice given will get a good start toward the elimination of the basic rheumatic toxins or poisons, and by continuing to observe wise habits of living should be able to return to good health.

What Is Your Opinion?

A great many interesting letters received by the Editor of The Bulletin are too long for publication. Our correspondents would do well to study brevity. A limit of 350 words must be insisted on.

The Other Side

Editor, Bulletin: The main trouble in Canada today is the lack of understanding between various industries of the country. An example of this was given recently in an address by Hon. P. M. Dewan, a member of the Ontario government.

He pointed out the higher prices obtained by manufacturers, without realizing evidently that farm prices have shown no such increase.

On the contrary, while manufactured goods have been going up in value, the farmer has been getting more and less for his labor.

In 1913, common labor was getting between two and three dollars a day, sometimes even more. Overalls could be bought for $1.50, shoes at $3, a binder or seed drill cost $175, a team was worth $300, and wheat sold at 60 cents a bushel.

What is the situation today? Labor organizations are gone, unemployment darkens the land, and misery is widespread. A team must be exceptionally good to sell at $175, shoes cost $5 or $6, a seed drill or binder $340, and wheat is still 60 cents.

There is no such thing as a job for any one unfortunate enough to be out of work.

That is why I think Mr. Dewan is wrong when he looks only on one side of the picture and talks about the growth in opportunities for urban workers. The story of farmers is not as bright. And he should have known too, that the disturbed agricultural conditions have had their effect upon reducing the standard of living for the city worker as well.

As ever, a reader of The Bulletin, and hopeful that Mr. Dewan will see the error of his thesis.

Actions Speak

Editor, Bulletin: This is an open letter to the government, ministers, M.L.A.'s, citizens and farmers of Alberta.

Resident of Edmonton and district, for 32 years and in Canada all my life, now 62 years of age. I homesteaded, farmed, and did business in various lines and everything to make a success but only those who are starting to finance can get a break. I made many suggestions to former administrations, some of which have in the past been put into operation. I have been expressing my opinions to a class of journalists who have been holding down for the past thirty years government and other prominent positions when they should be doing what they were sent here for—to farm. The time has come to change the program; give all returned soldiers under 60 from the Old Country who came to Canada since 1914 who hold government positions in any province and the dominion, a quarter section of land and make it compulsory to operate or sell same or go elsewhere. By doing this Canada will be doing human service by filling government appointments with her own Canadian born soldiers and the younger Canadian born generation. I am sure that there must have been more than I saw the handwriting on the wall back in 1929, and knew where the Canadian people were being led. However, I must cut my ideas short; but before doing so I have plans and ideas to put before the worthy premier, people and farmers of this province whereby every able-bodied unemployed man and woman can be put to work under salary; men $2.50 per day and board, and women $1.25 with board. Yes, they will like the work and the idea and be satisfied and contented, and there will be no more incendiary fires destroying not only government, but private property, which has cost this country millions of dollars to say nothing of loss of life, throughout the whole of Canada.

As I am only allowed 350 words in any one letter to the press, I must say in conclusion, that if the government of this province is interested and wants to consider my ideas to bring about those valuable

Archery Craze

Editor, Bulletin: The spectacle of a gull flying about the Highlands golf course with an arrow fastened in its throat is fair proof of the wanton cruelty of this fad for "archery." The predatory practice of the so-called professional archers who go into the larger forested areas and wound and kill the larger animals for target practice, sets such an example of pseudo-heroics that we have the countryside of every community over-run by youths and brats out maiming and slaughtering birds and animals without any regard to the suffering inflicted on wild life.

No one with a flicker of imagination can fail to realize the horrific pain and unmitigated suffering of birds and animals pierced by these barbs fastened in their bodies for days and weeks until they die a torturous death.

At the outset of this archery craze, the idea was that the killing instincts of the human would be gratified by shooting at board targets; but this falsity is like putting a match into a person's hand and allowing him to run through our timbered areas; the result is forest fires. The noble human cannot take an instrument of destruction in his hands without putting it to some sanguine use. Laws for the curbing of this sadistic pastime are long overdue. We need a law to confine the bow and arrow to the archery courses, and a fine to be imposed on anyone found practicing outside these bounds.

Now that the world is faced with the problem of the thousands of Jews in such dire distress in Europe, it is interesting to recall an incident that took place at Buffalo, N.Y., on Sept. 15, 1825 (I have to advance the date for once, since I have something of special interest for the 15th).

Can you imagine Grand Island in the Niagara river, above the Falls, converted into a place of refuge for the distressed Jews of the world? Yet that was the amazing proposition put forward by Major Mordecai Manuel Noah, of New York.

The corner stone is now the prized possession of the Buffalo Historical Society, a cenotaph of a dead, still-born republic, which never reached its destination, Grand Island.

Canada Sends Five Tons Paintings to London for British Art Exhibition

OTTAWA, Sept. 14.—Five tons of Canadian paintings arrived in London, England, today, and will remain unpacked at the wharf until supplementary shipment arrives the end of the week. Then they will be uncovered and dusted off preparatory to being hung in a special exhibit at the Tate Gallery in London.

In the massive crates are 2500 pictures by Canadian artists portraying "A Century of Canadian Art." The exhibit, to be opened at the gallery by the Duke of Kent Oct. 13, is the first from the British Dominions to be shown at the famed rendezvous of London art connoisseurs.

Gleaned from galleries across Canada and private collections, these paintings are representative works of Canadian artists, included with the exhibit of water-colors and oils are several outstanding pieces of Canadian sculpturing.

The bulk of the paintings were taken from the walls of the National Gallery of Canada in Ottawa and the Art Gallery of Toronto. Two paintings from the Canadian legation and the Luxembourg Museum in Paris have been borrowed and will be included with selections from Hart House, Toronto, Montreal Art Association, Art Gallery of Hamilton, McCord Museum of Montreal, Provincial Museum of Quebec, Sarnia Public Library and Art Gallery of Vancouver.

When the exhibition closes at the gallery the end of the year the pictures will go on tour in Manchester, Birmingham, Sheffield and Liverpool before being returned to their owners in the spring.

GERMAN FIRM WOULD BUILD OIL CARRIER

Take Crude In Payment For $16,000,000 Pipeline To Coast

CALGARY, Sept. 14.—A German corporation, Tropicorp Incorporated with headquarters in Berlin, has offered to construct a pipeline from Calgary to Vancouver, a distance of nearly 1,000 miles, to provide an outlet for Turner Valley crude oil.

Construction of a pipeline it has been estimated would cost $16,000,000 and the German corporation has offered to provide all necessary funds, taking oil in payment, presumably for shipment to Germany.

OFFER IN LETTER

The offer was made in a letter, dated June 21, to the Alberta Petroleum Association, R. A. Brown Sr., of Calgary, chairman, announced today.

The corporation has been advised, Mr. Brown said, that no negotiations can be entered into until the Liberal bar has been discussed with Canadian and British authorities.

The German proposal will be discussed with Hon. N. E. Tanner, Alberta minister of lands and mines, at a meeting of the Petroleum Association membership shortly.

OBTAIN VIEWS

Personally, Mr. Brown believed the association membership would be reluctant to negotiate with any foreign interests until the views of Canadian and British authorities had been obtained.

"The oil industry should be developed in the interests of Canada and the British Empire to supply their needs, both in times of peace and in war," said the association chairman.

Ottawa Told Of Conditions In Northern Gold Field—Value Unknown

OTTAWA, Sept. 14.—There is no place for the transient in the Yellowknife gold field, two officials of the mines and resources department, back from a tour of inspection of schools, hospitals, government offices and mining districts in the north-west territories, reported Tuesday. Yellowknife, on the north shore of Great Slave Lake, is Canada's newest mining centre.

The financed passpector, the hard rock miner and prospector workers have a chance for employment during the field season in the Yellowknife field, Canada's farthest north gold workings, but even these should have guaranteed jobs before departure. For others there is no work, said R. A. Gibson, director of the lands, parks and forestry branch, department of mines and resources, and A. L. Cummings, Mackenzie district superintendent.

TRAVEL BY PLANE

Travel around the field is almost entirely by airplane, though the trip to Yellowknife by boat may be had. It costs a lot of money to get around and there are no facilities for the care of the stranded.

All food must be purchased. Meat can be bought from the Indians who have exclusive hunting rights. Non-perishable vegetables and other foods are brought in by boat and taken to the mining camps by planes.

Fresh vegetables are imported by plane from Peace River and Edmonton. Plane rate for fresh fruits and vegetables from Peace River to Yellowknife is 27½ cents a pound.

MANY CLAIMS STAKED

Both sides of the Yellowknife river, for many miles north of the town of Yellowknife, are staked out. Prospectors, usually taken in by plane, are busy for many miles east and west of the main city territory and new finds may bring new settlements in the near future.

Since gold was discovered in the Yellowknife territory four years ago there has been an influx of prospectors from Ontario and Quebec, veterans who have mining. The field is not positively proven. It is not known whether ore values found on the surface persist at depth and it will be two years at more before the importance and extent of the field is determined.

POPULATION GROWS

Meanwhile the new mining camps grow in population and activity. In and around Yellowknife there are approximately 1,000 white people. The sub-mining recorder of gold and knife is the town's policeman and the medical health officer acts as sanitary inspector.

Most of the capital in the area is Canadian, the larger Ontario and Quebec mining companies being particularly well represented. Most prospectors work for companies.

Late in July at Yellowknife publication of an eight-page mimeographed semi-weekly newspaper started. It sells for 10 cents a copy or $6 a year.

DANIEL DODGE LEFT $250,000 YOUNG WIDOW

PONTIAC, Mich., Sept. 14.—The will of Daniel G. Dodge, filed here for probate Monday, left $250,000 to his widow, the former Laurine McDonald.

Bulk of the estate, estimated at approximately $10,000,000, was left to Dodge's mother, Mrs. Alfred G. Wilson, widow of John F. Dodge, founder of an automobile fortune.

The will was dated July 25, prior to Dodge's marriage to Miss McDonald, daughter of a Manitoulin Island, Ont., tugboat captain.

Dodge drowned August 15 in Georgian Bay, near Manitoulin Island, after he had been injured in a dynamite explosion at the summer lodge where he and his bride were spending their honeymoon.

EXPERTS MAKE STUDY OF NEW MINE REGION

Ottawa Told Of Conditions In Northern Gold Field—Value Unknown

OTTAWA, Sept. 14.—There is no place for the transient in the Yellowknife gold field, two officials of the mines and resources department, back from a tour of inspection of schools, hospitals, government offices and mining districts in the north-west territories, reported Tuesday. Yellowknife, on the north shore of Great Slave Lake, is Canada's newest mining centre.

The financed passpector, the hard rock miner and prospector workers have a chance for employment during the field season in the Yellowknife field, Canada's farthest north gold workings, but even these should have guaranteed jobs before departure. For others there is no work, said R. A. Gibson, director of the lands, parks and forestry branch, department of mines and resources, and A. L. Cummings, Mackenzie district superintendent.

TRAVEL BY PLANE

Travel around the field is almost entirely by airplane, though the trip to Yellowknife by boat may be had. It costs a lot of money to get around and there are no facilities for the care of the stranded.

All food must be purchased. Meat can be bought from the Indians who have exclusive hunting rights. Non-perishable vegetables and other foods are brought in by boat and taken to the mining camps by planes.

Fresh vegetables are imported by plane from Peace River and Edmonton. Plane rate for fresh fruits and vegetables from Peace River to Yellowknife is 27½ cents a pound.

MANY CLAIMS STAKED

Both sides of the Yellowknife river, for many miles north of the town of Yellowknife, are staked out. Prospectors, usually taken in by plane, are busy for many miles east and west of the main city territory and new finds may bring new settlements in the near future.

Since gold was discovered in the Yellowknife territory four years ago there has been an influx of prospectors from Ontario and Quebec, veterans who have mining. The field is not positively proven. It is not known whether ore values found on the surface persist at depth and it will be two years at more before the importance and extent of the field is determined.

POPULATION GROWS

Meanwhile the new mining camps grow in population and activity. In and around Yellowknife there are approximately 1,000 white people. The sub-mining recorder of gold and knife is the town's policeman and the medical health officer acts as sanitary inspector.

Britain To Rely On Air Force, Navy In Event Of War

SYDNEY, N.S.W., Sept. 14.—An authority told the British Empire Relations conference today at a closed session that Britain does not expect to send out an expeditionary force in event of war but would rely on the air force and navy. Contributions of the dominions to a European struggle would be limited to aviators, equipment, munitions and food, he said.

Lord's Day Alliance Fights Sunday Sport

TORONTO, Sept. 14.—The Lord's Day Alliance is leading a fight against the opening of Toronto's parks and playgrounds to Sunday sport after years in which tennis, baseball and other recreation were taboo. Announcement was made Tuesday of arrangements for a meeting this week to which church representatives will be invited.

German Catapult Plane Sets Record

PORT WASHINGTON, N.Y., Sept. 14.—The new German catapult seaplane Norderten landed here Monday on its first trip to the United States with a new record for the Azores-New York "Experimental" run. The Nordaten, one of three craft being used over the 2,397-mile route, alighted on Manhasset Bay, on the north shore of Long Island, only 13 hours, 41 minutes out of Horta. It averaged 175 miles an hour on the trip.

LLOYDMINSTER

Choral Society Is Formed At Lloyd

The nucleus of a choral society was formed at a meeting of Lloydminster citizens held in St. John's church vestry on Friday evening, when 18 were present and signified their desire of joining and forming such a society. H. Sellers occupied the chair for the meeting and Mrs. Kemp acted as secretary for the initial meeting, but as there were an additional 14 names of interested persons who would probably become members handed to the meeting it was decided to hold over the election of the permanent officers to another meeting. Mrs. H. Rhind Fleming, who has had considerable experience in conducting choirs and choral societies was appointed the conductress of the new organization, and it is expected that under her baton the society will progress to a high standard.

Vows Pledged In Setting Of Fall Flowers

Norwood Baptist church, tastefully decorated throughout with lovely autumn flowers was the scene for an interesting ceremony on Tuesday evening when Phyllis Irene Fairholm, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Fairholm of Edmonton and John Alexander Taylor of Nanaimo, B.C., son of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Taylor of Ladysmith, B.C., exchanged their vows of marriage.

GONE TO COAST

Mr. and Mrs. Taylor left early Wednesday morning for their home at the Pacific coast.

Performed at half past eight o'clock, the ceremony was conducted by Rev. W. R. Hall of Calgary.

Fashioned on princess lines, the gown the bride chose for her marriage was of lustrous white satin. From a wreath of orange blossoms at her head a wedding veil of white fell softly about her shoulders and she carried in her arms a bouquet of pink carnations and sweet peas.

Attending the bride was Miss Hilda Drinkwater as bridesmaid, and the Misses Jessie Bumstead and Marjorie Bumstead as flower girls.

BLUE CHIFFON

A gown of softest blue chiffon was the frock Miss Drinkwater the bride chose. Her accessories were in matching blue and her flowers a bouquet of sweet peas.

Flower girls were dressed alike in frocks of pink satin, trimmed with baby blue ribbon and carried bouquets of sweet peas.

Mr. Cyril Fairholm, brother of the bride was best man, and Mr. S. J. Bumstead, brother-in-law, gave the bride in marriage.

80 GUESTS

Following the service a reception to approximately eighty guests was arranged in the church. Receiving with the bridal couple, Mrs. S. J. Bumstead was charmingly dressed in a model of allie blue crepe.

To travel the bride was dressed in a brown frock with smart bolero jacket and accessories of green.

Contest Date Is Extended Poets Learn

Entrants in the ninth annual poetry contest sponsored by the Edmonton branch of the Canadian Authors' Association have been granted 15 days' grace. The competition, which is open to the entire province, was to have closed on Saturday, October 1, but officials have decided to extend the date to Saturday, October 15.

Contributions from Edmonton songsters, it is noted, will be especially welcome as there have been no poems from this city submitted so far.

Three prizes have been offered for the best poems on any subject, and there will be a special prize for the best poem with a Canadian theme.

Rules are the same as in previous contests except that any number of poems may be submitted if accompanied by the required fee.

The number of poems published in the Alberta Poetry Year Book for 1938-1939 will be based on the quality as well as the quantity of poems entered in the contest.

All communications regarding the contest should be addressed to the secretary-treasurer, Mrs. I. A. Scouten, at 11337 94 street.

Soviet Embassy Brands Magazine Article As Lie

British United Press

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14. — The Soviet embassy has described as "wholly a fabrication" an article in the September 3 Liberty Magazine by Princess Catherine Radziwill which undertook to give Joseph Stalin's views on international affairs.

The embassy said no such purported interview with Stalin ever occurred and that Stalin never expressed such views. Stalin's latest interview was with Roy W. Howard, of the Scripps-Howard newspapers in 1936, according to the embassy.

French Not To Be Outdone By German Rivals

British United Press

PARIS, Sept. 14. — A 100-foot panel reading "One people, one Reich, one Fuehrer," appeared on the German side of the Rhine opposite Neufsbriach Saturday morning.

French villagers hastily painted and erected a panel of equal size reading "Liberty, Equality, Fraternity," the motto of the third French republic.

Fashion Plays Into Hands Of Knitters

Luxurious-Looking Bolero Is Easily Made With Soft Angora

Pert little angora bolero jackets are important fashion news this fall. Chic women like them for evening as well as daytime.

It really isn't much trouble to knit your own angora bolero. And if you make it in white, you can wear it with anything.

Here are directions for knitting a bolero in size 16:

Materials: 10 balls of angora (1¾ oz. balls); 1 pair No. 8 knitting needles (3¼ mm. size); a No. 6 circular knitting pin (4¾ mm. size); ¼ yard crinoline; 10 inches silk tape.

Measurements After Blocking: Width across back, at underarm—18 inches. Width across each front, at underarm—9 inches. Length from top of shoulder—13 inches. Length of sleeve, underarm seam—8 inches.

Gauge: 9 sts make 2 inches; 6 rows make 1 inch.

Back . . . Starting at bottom, with No. 8 needles cast on 70 sts and work in stockinette st (k 1 row, p 1 row), increasing 1 st at both ends of every 6th row until there are 78 sts on needle. Work straight until piece measures 5 inches in all.

To Shape Armholes: Bind off 3 sts at beginning of each of next 2 rows. Then decrease 1 st at end of each row until 60 sts remain. Work straight until piece measures 7 inches from armhole when shaping. To shape shoulders, bind off 3 sts at beginning of each row until 24 sts remain. Bind off.

Right front . . . Starting at bottom, with No. 9 needle cast on 9 sts. 1st row: K across, casting on 7 sts at end of row (this is underarm edge). 2nd row: P across, casting on 2 sts (this is the curved edge of front). 3rd and 4th rows: Repeat 1st and 2nd rows. Hereafter continue in stockinette st, increasing 1 st at underarm edge every 6th row 5 times in all; at the same time increase 1 st at curved edge of front every other row 8 times (40 sts). Work straight until piece measures 5 inches in all.

TO Shape Armhole: Starting at underarm edge, bind off 3 sts and p across, decreasing the last st (thus starting front shaping). Hereafter decrease 1 st at underarm edge every other row 5 times in all; at the same time, decrease 1 st every 4th row at front edge 12 times in all, but keep piece straight for 2 inches from 1st row of armhole shaping, shape shoulder by binding off 3 sts every other row until all sts are bound off.

Sleeves . . . Starting at bottom, with circular needle cast on 46 sts and work in rows of ribbing (k 1, p 1, for 1 inch. Change to No. 9 needles and work in stockinette st, increasing 1 st at both ends of each row until there are 64 sts on needle. Work 1 row straight. To shape top of sleeve, decrease 1 st at both ends of each of next 4 rows. Work straight for 5 inches. Then decrease 1 st at both ends of next 8 rows (48 sts). Bind off 3 sts at beginning of each row until 18 sts remain. Bind off.

Sew up underarm and shoulder seams. Sew up sleeve seams and sew sleeves in, gathering the fullness of sleeve across the centre 5 inches at top.

Rolled band . . . Holding right side of work toward you and starting at bottom of underarm seam, with circular needle pick up 70 sts across bottom of Back, 80 sts all around edge of Right Front, 24 sts across back of neck, and 80 sts all around edge of Left Front to starting point (254 sts). 1st to 13th rnds incl: P around. Bind off loosely. Roll edges inward on right side of garment, and sew in place.

Shoulder pads . . . Make 2. . . . Fold crinoline on bias, cut a crescent through both thicknesses, 3½ inches long and 1½ inches wide at centre. Make several small pleats along cut edge. Bind raw edges with tape. Sew this edge to seam at top of shoulder, holding seams to inside of sleeve.

A charming little bolero like this is easily knitted. Made of soft angora wool, it will prove one of the handiest items in your wardrobe. Make it to harmonize with the colors of your favorite frocks, of course, but remember also that if you knit one of white wool it will serve a double duty. The white bolero pictured above is as style-right for evening wear as for daytime hours.

Weddings

SNYDER—STEWART

STETTLER, Sept. 14.—Home of Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Stewart of Warden was the setting for a pretty early fall wedding one day just recently when their youngest daughter, Edith Cavell Stewart, became the bride of Jack Roy Snyder, only son of Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Snyder, of Stettler.

Rev. J. W. Montgomery was the officiating clergyman for the ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride made a lovely picture in her floor length gown of pink lace over taffeta. She carried a sheaf of pink gladioli.

Bridal attendants were Miss Mae Snyder, maid of honor, and Miss Maude Stewart, sister of the bride, bridesmaid; while Mr. Norman Stewart, brother of the bride, was best man.

Wedding marches were played by Miss Isobel Carder.

Over The Wires

DUCHESS WILL ADDRESS NATIONS LEAGUE GROUP

OTTAWA, Sept. 14.—In Canada not "to tell the League of Nations Society in this country what to do, but to learn what it is doing," the Duchess of Atholl, Conservative member of the British House of Commons arrived at Rockcliff Airport near Ottawa on Friday evening. The Duchess was "thrilled" at her first ride in an airplane. The Duchess spent Friday morning in Quebec with Lady Tweedsmuir, at the vice-regal summer residence there. She arrived in Ottawa, clad in tailored black suit and rose velvet hat, and will speak at the national meeting of the executive of the League of Nations Society today. She will later speak in Toronto and in Montreal before returning to England.

BUT MY DEAR, I can't possibly go—I haven't a rag that's fit to wear!" Milady may not have any grounds for her age-old complaint if the report is true that a new fabric has been discovered to make gold cloth so cheaply that every woman may have a gold evening gown. Commenting on the new manufacturing process, the Baltimore Sun says that if it indeed becomes practical to make gold cloth for evening gowns, it may be that dresses will become not only things of beauty but storehouses of value.

An extensive wardrobe would provide a family with a nest-egg against a rainy day or a new devaluation. The wise and prudent bride-to-be would no longer object to buying evening gowns but would rush out and buy in a fresh supply of the gold cloth. If at the same time the dollar commenced to wobble in the foreign exchange market, the investor's popularity with the man-folk will be somewhat doubtful, but anyway he will have introduced a new approach to the getting-new-frocks question.

EVENSONG

The embers of the day are red
Beyond the murky hill.
The kitchen smokes the bed
In the darkling house is spread.
The great sky burns overhead.
And the great woods are shrill.
So far have I been led,
Lord, by Thy will.
So far! I have followed, Lord, and wondered still.

The breeze from the embalmed land
Blows sudden toward the shore,
And calls my cottage door.
I hear the signal, Lord—I understand.
The night at Thy command Comes. I will eat and sleep and will not question more.
—Robert Louis Stevenson.

Bulletin Patterns

A Two-Piece Costume for Town, School or College . . . With Two Blouses

A monotone woolen two-piece costume like this, will make your fall wardrobe seem twice as large. You'll wear it as a complete costume and "match them and mix them". The slim skirt with front gores, is just the thing for all your sweaters . . . also for "tuck-in" cotton or wool shirt blouse. The Jacket-like blouse is the smartest topper ever for a clan plaid wool or a velveteen skirt. The model provides for both blouses. Note the shirt collared blouse favors buttons . . . the collarless blouse, zips up the front. Long or short sleeves are optional in either model. Woolly-looking crepe silks, spun rayon and acetate novelties, velveteen, etc., are other popular fabrics.

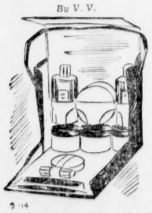

Style No. 2807 is designed for 12, 14, 16, 18, 20 years; 30, 32, 34, 36, 38 and 40-inches bust. Size 16 requires 1 yard of 39-inch material for blouse; and 2½ yards of 39-inch material for skirt.

Our new fall pattern book has over 150 of the newest Paris, New York and Hollywood designs . . . suggestions for holiday gifts . . . beauty articles and exclusive cooking recipes. Order your copy today! Price 15 cents.

Mrs. F. J. Bloom Is Acting Leader Of Presbyterian L.A.

SYLVAN LAKE, Sept. 13—September meeting of the Ladies' Aid of the Memorial Presbyterian church in Sylvan Lake was held at the home of Mrs. James Dingwall one afternoon just recently. Upon the resignation of the president, Mrs. M. H. Fraser, Mrs. F. J. Bloom assumed presidential duties, and will hold office until the end of the current term.

SEASON'S WORK COMMENCED BY ST. STEPHEN'S CLUB

Commencing the fall season of activity, St. Stephen's Willing workers met recently and made plans for the annual bazaar to be held early in November, for which affair an apron shower will be given in October at the home of Mr. J. R. Watson and a towel shower at the home of Mr. J. L. Dixon.

The date for a whist drive to be held this month will be set later.

Miss Moody, president of the society, presided at the meeting and best wishes were brought during the afternoon by the Rector of the church.

According To Culbertson

BY ELY CULBERTSON

"Dear Mr. Culbertson: Some very spectacular hands have appeared in your column from time to time, but below is, I believe, one of the most unusual I ever have seen, as both distribution and play.

"West, dealer.

"East-West part-score 70.

	NORTH
	♥ A Q 10
	♦ A K Q J
	♣ A K J 10 7
WEST		EAST
♠ None		♠ Q 7 4 3
♥ 7 5 4 3		♥ 8 6 2
♦ 10 9 0 5		♦ 8 7 5 3
♣ 9 5 4 2		♣ Q 9
	SOUTH
	♠ A K J 10 8 6 5 2
	♥ N J 9

"West dealt and passed. North bid two clubs. East passed. South responded with a jump to three spades. North made the proper overcall of five no trump, at least, so he said, to inform his partner that he had everything else in the deck but spades, and South, a wild gambler, hopped up with seven spades. East, who previously hadn't opened his head, promptly doubled, which, as sometimes happens, proved his undoing.

"West, for no particular reason, opened his fourth best diamond, the trey. When dummy was spread South wasted some three minutes before taking the trick. He probably was figuring what was left in the deck that East could have doubled on, and finally deduced that he had all the outstanding spades. East was definitely marked with four diamonds, West's trey being fourth best, and East having played the deuce; that left five cards for clubs and no heart. Then were three hearts and two clubs, the contract could be made; otherwise it was down.

"Acting on his hunches and hopes, South led his lone trump from dummy, and when East failed to cover, finessed, which of course disclosed the situation—four long trumps to dispose of to reduce to East's length. He led the diamond king from dummy, ruffed, reentered dummy with the heart king to the ace, led the diamond queen and ruffed, reentered with the heart jack to the queen and led the last diamond and ruffed. Three extra trumps gone, but a forth to dispose of. Declarer could have made a fatal throw at this point, but by some stroke of luck didn't. If he had used his last heart entry at this point he would have had to destroy his only other entry, a spade. Then East, now reduced to only his three spades. The rest was simple. East still is bemoaning the fact that a thrice guarded trump queen isn't always a safe double of a grand slam bid!

"J.F.B., La Grange, Ill."

Obviously, this was a well played hand and I cannot say that I blame South for having insisted on a grand slam contract. His play, based on East's double, was actually an example of a quadruple grand coup, i.e., he ruffed four perfectly good tricks in order to shorten himself to the trump equality with East, which would be necessary if the spade queen was to be shut out.

I cannot be too severe in my criticism of East's double. As might easily be figured East laid odds of about thirty to one that he would defeat the contract. That is to say, if his double were successful he could expect to collect 50 points extra, since surely he could not hope for a two trick defeat. On the other hand, if the double helped declarer fulfill the contract it would be about 1,300 points. I am therefore not saying that anybody who lays these odds in bridge should consult the nearest alienist. Without East's double declarer would have had to be a magician to have fulfilled the contract, since he would have had to take a first round finesse without the slightest inkling of the adverse distribution.

What To Do

By Phyllis Belmont

I am having a small, informal wedding and will write the invitations to my relatives and to the immediate friends of the groom's family. Just how should I word this type of invitation? Please tell me whether it is necessary to send wedding announcements to the persons receiving a written invitation. When should the announcements be mailed?

MISS M. A. T.

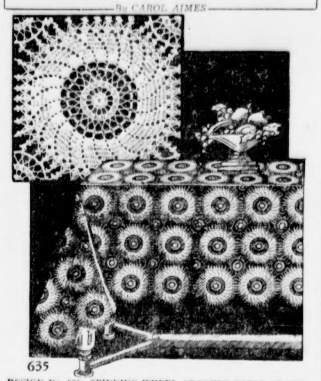

Answer—You write your wedding invitations just like you would a personal note. The wording could follow something like this: "Dear Ruth: Jack and I are going to be married very quietly at St. John's Church, on Saturday afternoon, October 8, at 4 o'clock. We are asking only our immediate families and a few relatives and we will be very happy to have you with us, too. We are having a small reception at my home after the ceremony. Affectionately, M. A. T." It is not necessary to send announcements to persons who have been invited to the wedding, whether they attend or not. The bride and the groom before the wedding should have made their lists for announcements, and the engraved announcements should be addressed, stamped and ready to mail on the day of the wedding after the ceremony.

The small deep red Italian tomato which appears in early September will make a colorful addition to the table fruit bowl. Nice to add to the school child's lunch and, since they are meaty and less juicy than the larger varieties, excellent for making flavorsome preserves and spicy sauces.

DESIGN No. 635—SPINNING WHEEL CROCHET TABLE CLOTH

Dear Readers: Your letters did not actually specify a "spinning wheel" design. Your requests were for "more crochet table cloths". Just when we were about to start the new design, a youngster came by having a grand time with a celluloid spinning wheel. "Perfect," we decided, and sat right down and designed this lovely cloth. It is the simplest thing to work—plain and double crochet centres and double crochet forming the more solid sections of medallions. We are grateful to the boy with the toy for what we consider a real inspiration.

The pattern includes complete directions for working, assembling and finishing, and material requirements.

DOROTHY DIX Says:

DEAR MISS DIX: I am 20 years old, have two children, and after four years of married life I find myself longing for parties, dances and the attentions of young fellows, as any girl of my age does. My husband loves me dearly and is good to me, though we have never been able to afford nice things or to go to places of amusement. I busy myself with my housework, but my mind is always on the pleasures I have missed, and I envy my girl friends and wish I were one of them. What shall I do? Never let them find out how I feel and try ever so hard to REALLY love my husband? Or get a divorce and be a girl again?

LONESOME.

Answer: What we've done we've done, and we can't undo it. You have a husband and children and you cannot do away with them and be a girl again. You cannot blot them out of your memory, or tear them out of your heart. No matter where you went or what you did, you would be thinking of them. Your babies' cries would come to you over the loudest music. Your thoughts of your husband's loneliness without you would kill the gayety of the wildest party.

One of the greatest tragedies of divorce is that it has no power to turn a married woman into a girl again, as so many women seem to think it has. A woman who is unhappily married, or tired of her husband, or weary of the drudgery of taking care of a family, thinks that if she could only get a divorce she would be sweet 20 again, a spoiled daughter in her father's house, with everybody giving her the best of everything and trying to see that she has a good time. She thinks that she would be light-hearted, with no worries or responsibilities and lots of beaux and dates and pretty clothes and everything that makes girlhood an enchanting time of life.

She forgets that she is perhaps middle-aged, that she has lost her beauty, that she has children, that she has been mistress of her own house for ten or fifteen years. All she thinks of is getting rid of her husband and returning to her status quo before she married.

So she gets her divorce and takes her children and goes back to Father and Mother, where she finds that she is a mere or less unwelcomed guest. The old people do not want to be bothered with her children. They do not want to be divided their time and income with her. And she finds that her old set is broken up and changed, that no one feels called upon to give her parties and try to amuse her, that she has lost her attraction for men and that she is a thousand times more of a bore than she was even with an unsatisfactory husband.

DOROTHY DIX.

According to criminal law, it is immaterial whether or not a statement is true or false, as far as its being libel. A perfectly true statement may be libel if it defames another's character and exposes him to ridicule or public hatred. If the statement be false, the punishment may be greater, but true statements used against another can likewise be libel, if they are written form. Fair comments upon public matters are not considered libel, if true, usually. A photograph or caricature may be libel if it subjects the person to defamation. Slander, on the other hand, may be either written or spoken falsely. Truthfulness is a defense at law in cases of slander, but not in cases of libel.

Raising A Family

By OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

I tried to explain to Mr. Miller that it would not be altogether possible for his son to skip arithmetic and give more time to music.

Mr. Miller plays in an orchestra and he intends to give William a musical education. So I was not surprised, as you may be to hear that a father instead of a mother made the comment that the public school should concentrate more on the arts and less on the "Rs". I was interested to hear, however, that he thought it would be an easy matter for each child to select his girls' and boys' subjects, just as the students in high school are permitted to do.

What a chaos that would be, and for those who wished commercial work instead of academic preparation, and sometimes there was latitude in one direction. A boy could take Greek instead of Latin, perhaps, or logic instead of chemistry. But that just about ended it.

In the old days, even with only one or two high schools in large cities, courses were arbitrarily laid out. There was some allowance made for those who wished commercial work instead of academic preparation, and sometimes there was latitude in one direction. A boy could take Greek instead of Latin, perhaps, or logic instead of chemistry. But that just about ended it.

Now there are scores of vocational high schools. One of the hottest debates I ever put up with was a high school principal who insisted that a smattering of mechanics and a dab of domestic science was the height of vocational training. And I insisted with equal fervor that the boy would come out of high schools would either have to put up or shut up, unless they built some of their schools with the intention of teaching children how to make a living apart from the field of liberal arts.

He thought I was most radical. I thought he lacked vision. Who can tell what season children dead languages when it was life they had to fight? Since then it has all been arranged. Boys and girls are learning, and learning well, trades that will be of service. The cultural courses, too, offer almost any assortment of subjects.

FOUNDATION OF EDUCATION

However, grade schools, I think, will never be able to split their courses with any success. And if parents would stop to think, the things the child gets in elementary school are basic foundations that every literate person needs.

It would be a happy time, no doubt, for everybody if the routine could be broken down into just what every pupil likes best, and what his parents wish him to concentrate upon. But except in the case of the backward child, and, of course, the mental deviate, the school body as a whole will have to learn what it is taught.

Guard Face Carefully As Summer Tan Fades

By ALICIA HART

Large pores and minor blemishes which are likely to be all too evident once your fine coat of suntan begins to fade need special attention. You can conceal them with makeup, of course, but it's a mistake not to try to eliminate them as quickly as possible.

For blackheads, routines which make use of some kind of mask preparation will be efficacious. Once or twice a week, simply wash face and throat carefully, smooth on a mask, especially designed to loosen dust and dirt that have accumulated in the enlarged pores and leave on from fifteen minutes to an hour depending on the directions on the jar.

Afterward, rinse off the mask, then, covering forefingers with cotton, gently press out a few of the blackheads. Be careful not to bruise the skin. And do not try to remove all impurities during one treatment or even five. Be willing to devote several weeks to getting your complexion back into excellent condition.

After you have squeezed several spots, put a bit of antiseptic on the irritated areas and let it dry. If your skin is quite oily, apply a special cream for oily skin. Otherwise, put on generous quantities of regular night cream and go to bed.

Next morning, one with oily skin ought to wash again with soap before putting on foundation and makeup. The dry-skinned individual can substitute cleansing cream for soap and water.

Never put a layer of fresh makeup on over stale. And make it a rather rule never to go to bed without first cleansing face and throat carefully. Scrupulous cleanliness is the first requisite of smooth, clear, unblemished skin.

LASTING BOUQUETS

To keep bouquets fresh, remove the leaves on the stems which would be under water in the container. And don't forget to give those fresh water every day.

Cut flowers should be arranged, not thrust into a vase. Stems should be broken—down into just what every pupil likes best, of what his parents wish him to concentrate upon. But except in the case of the backward child, and, of course, the mental deviate, the school body as a whole will have to learn what it is taught.

Easy-Growing Plants For Winter Loveliness

Calla Bloom Gloriously

Let the stately calla add beauty to your home this winter.

A favorite in sunny old-fashioned gardens, the calla's rich blooms and classic lines accent the charm of modern rooms.

Easy to grow if you understand them, calla roots need a sunny window, lots of water. Potted in September or October, they'll bloom from January until spring.

Select a six-inch pot for the average root.

Set root in dish of water after putting drainage material—cinders or pebbles—in bottom of pot. Make the dish of water attractive with colored pebbles, perhaps of bright glass.

Remember that your calla will bloom year after year if properly cared for. Let foliage dry back to give the root a complete rest during the summer. Repot in fall.

Fragrant bulbs, graceful ivy, handsome foliage plants—our 32-page booklet tells how to make them thrive indoors. Which ones to start now. How to obtain luxuriant bloom during cold months, avoid plant pests.

Send 5c in coins for your copy of "Making Plants and Flowers Grow Indoors" to Home Service, The Edmonton Bulletin, Edmonton, Alberta. Be sure to write plainly your name, address, and the name of booklet.

Broomhall

The persistent decline in Sterling tends to check imports. In the past four weeks the value has declined nearly 10 cents. English millers are buyers of Canadian wheat and paid 87¾ for two's sailing from Montreal this week. French wheat soft is offered at 57⅛, plus six cents duty, delivered, for October shipment. The arrived Russian wheat shows more than usual infestation of the wheat bug, which necessitates considerable treatment before being millable. Russian offers of afloat wheat yesterday ranged from 56¼ for the poorer grades to 64½ cents, c.i.f. the U. K., for high grades, which continued pressure in evidence. The wheat crop in Belgium is somewhat above average, but the increase is negligible insofar as import needs are affected, as this country produces only about one-fourth of its needs.

Frontier Royalties To Pay Over $80,000

CALGARY, Sept. 14.—It was announced today by J. G. Gemmell, secretary of Anglo-Canadian Oil Co. Ltd. and its associated companies, that Frontier Royalties Limited will shortly pay to shareholders its initial distribution from proceeds of production.

This makes the fifth company of the Anglo-Canadian group to join the ranks of those paying regular returns to investors.

It is estimated that over $80,000 will be paid out in the initial distribution. The Frontier Royalties' well came into production June 11, 1937.

SURVEY OFFICIAL MAKES PROBE OF VALLEY OIL AREA

Completing surveys of the north end of Turner Valley oil field Dr. G. S. Hume, Ottawa head of the Geological Survey service, federal government, arrived in Edmonton Wednesday morning enroute to the Wainwright, Ribstone and Lloydminster fields, but will survey the development work which has taken place in these fields recently.

Questioned regarding his survey work in the north end of Turner Valley field, Dr. Hume said he had not consolidated his findings and was therefore unable to give any indication of the oil potentialities of this field. Work on the preparation of a report on the Turner Valley survey will commence when Mr. Hume returns to Ottawa on the completion of his eastern survey.

Increase in electrical energy output from the Edmonton power plant, above last year, went over the million kilowatt mark last week. Output in kilowatt hours up to the end of last week for this year was 41,728,600 as compared with 40,661,600 for the corresponding period in 1937, an increase of 1,067,000.

Political Groups Talk Plans For City Elections

SOCREDS WILL TAKE PART IN CIVIC CONTEST

Citizens' Committee Also Lays Plans For November Voting

Active participation in the November 9 municipal election will be taken by the Social Credit party in Edmonton, it was decided at a meeting of the Social Credit groups in the city held Tuesday evening.

It was decided to seek the co-operation of all progressive thinking groups in the city, but also, it was decided the identity of the Social Credit party would not be sunk under any other name.

Decision whether a full slate for the mayoralty, aldermanic and school board vacancies would be put in the field was left over until negotiations with other progressive bodies in the city had been completed.

PRELIMINARY MEET

Preliminary meeting of the executive of the Citizens' Committee, civic political organization, was held Tuesday evening to discuss plans for the first general meeting, which will be held in the near future. At the general meeting a 1938 executive will be elected and plans laid for policy and campaign in the civic elections. Last year the Citizens' Committee's for mayor, aldermen and school trustees all were elected.

It would appear that a determined attack will be made this fall on the solid block representation on city council and school board held by the Citizens' Committee.

Although it is still early in the fight, Mayor J. W. Fry, Citizens' Committee candidate, has intimated he will seek re-election and it is expected he will receive full representation of the party which elected him to office last November.

F. J. Speed, a civic contestant for the mayoralty, probably be in the field again this year.

CO-OPERATION

Avenues to bring about the co-operation of all progressive groups in the city in entering candidates for the mayoralty, aldermanic and school board vacancies are being explored by executives of these groups.

Lawrence Anderson, provincial secretary of the Communist party, stated Wednesday the party would actively participate in the election, either through co-operation with other progressive groups, or failing this co-operation, by placing candidates in the field to directly represent the party.

It is understood that the C.C.F. executive is opposed to co-operation with other groups and will put candidates in the field supported by the Canadian Labor party. A meeting of the executive of this party will be held Wednesday evening when the question of election tactics will be fully explored.

Election action of the Canadian Labor party has not been decided, but there is the general indication that it will join forces with the C. C. F. party. Decision on this matter will probably be made at the party's next regular monthly meeting on Tuesday, October 27 next.

TAXPAYERS' GROUP

It is undecided yet whether the Taxpayers' Protective Association will actively enter the campaign this year. This is a matter for the general membership to decide, stated Secretary W. Rose. Meetings of the membership will be held in the near future, he stated, to determine the question.

Whether the Trades and Labor Council will enter the political field this year through the Canadian Labor party, is a decision which will be asked of the council's membership in the October meetings. Last year the council took no active interest in the election, although D. K. Knott, running on the Citizens' League slate, received the support of many of the council's members.

YOUNG TRAFFIC OFFICERS BUSY ON SCHOOL DUTY

Right on the job of protecting young pupils on their way across streets to and from school, older boy students chosen as school policemen, and wearing arm-bands showing their capacity, are doing their part in preservation of life and limb, said Sergeant-Major Alex. Riddell, of the city police traffic department, Wednesday.

Asked if the young protectors had the right to stop an auto driver for an infraction of speed limits, the traffic chief said: "No, they haven't, but they can take down the number of an offending car, and then we can get the motorist from that."

Need for extreme caution on the part of drivers operating in school zones was stressed by a police official, who said the department would go right after any one disobeying the rules.

Edmonton school children are going to get protection, say Edmonton police, and motorists would be wise to take the warning.

The Inquiring Reporter

Bewhiskered Felix Bush Breazeale, 74-year-old farmer, who lives 14 miles out of Kingston, Tenn., thinks it's foolish to preach a man's funeral after he dies. Bush wants to hear what the preacher has to say about him, so he's paying his own funeral preached in the little white Cave Creek Baptist Church.

What do you think of the idea? The Bulletin's Inquiring Reporter asked. Here are the rather definite replies he received:

NORMAN HOW, cyclist: Why shouldn't we have our funerals before we die? You've been to some of these grand funerals where the flowers were a profusion of loveliness and the sermon was something to remember, but if you look at the recipient of all these verbal and floral offerings, you will see that they don't seem to be enjoying it one way or the other. Why not have them really appreciate the nice things said about them while they are alive? I'm all for these "funerals before deaths!"

MILDRED COCHRANE, cashier: It would be fine to hear all the tributes paid you at your funeral, so I guess that man's idea is alright. I have always thought that too much fuss was made over funerals, and if you were really at your own, you could more or less tone it down.

* * *

GEORGE ATKINSON, accountant: That sounds like a rather silly publicity stunt, or something coming out of a cracked mind. I understand he also has built his own coffin out of a walnut tree that grew in his own yard, and that savors very strongly of a popular song "The Old Apple Tree" . . . you know those lines: "They put the apples in a basket; cut the tree down for a casket". What do you think?

* * *

EILEEN McPEAKE, swimmer: Don't quote me on this, but I think he's a lunatic. He may not be mentally deranged in the accepted sense of the word, but his notion sounds just like a childish whim to hear what people would say at his funeral. He's just nuts!

OBITUARY EDITOR: While he's at it, why not have him send in his obituary to me, and save me a lot of time and headaches. Say, that's an idea! Why not institute a file for persons "undeceased," where all the obituaries of important people could be written up, and then when they die, it would be a simple matter to go to the file and pick it up.

INQUEST HELD FOR FATALITY WEST OF CITY

Jury Finds Mildred Calahoo Died Of Multiple Injuries

Following a two-hour investigation Tuesday, a coroner's jury brought in the verdict of "death from multiple injuries" in the case of six-year-old Mildred Calahoo, little Indian girl who was thrown from her father's car when it struck a tractor on a road eleven miles west of Edmonton Saturday evening.

Witnesses at the inquest were Adolphus Calahoo, father of the child and driver of the automobile; George Buck, Villeneuve, a passenger in the auto; Mrs. M. Calahoo; R.C.M.P. Corp. J. A. Cameron; and Douglas Bradbury, driver of the tractor.

BLAME DUSK

Both Calahoo and Buck blamed the "dusk and darkness" for the accident. Bradbury admitted that his vehicle carried no lights, but he alleged that the car was encroaching on the side of the road when the accident occurred.

Under Alberta traffic regulations it is not necessary for Bradbury to carry a lighted lamp on the tractor because "he was travelling on a municipal road, not a highway as a secondary highway," the R.C.M.P. explained.

COULD NOT AVOID

Calahoo said he had not seen the tractor in time to avoid it.

Jurymen were R. Talbot, P. W. Jean, R. Carmichael, Robert Fletcher, George McKeever and George Bagnall. Col. F. C. Jamieson, K.C., acted for Calahoo, and Ernest Wilson was counsel for Bradbury and his employer, W. S. Walker, Winterburn district farmer.

City Delegate To Glasgow Congress Leaves Edmonton

Mrs. W. A. McConkey, official Edmonton delegate to the British Commonwealth Peace Congress in Glasgow, on September 23 to 28, left city Tuesday evening on a Canadian National east-bound train. She will sail from Montreal on the Duchess of York September 16.

At the conclusion of the congress, Mrs. McConkey plans to take a side trip to London to visit her son. She will be absent about one month.

Several members of Peace groups in the city were at the station to bid Mrs. Bregenzer-Scott off, and the entire Youth Council executive adjourned a meeting to be present.

Pilot Herb. Hopson, Mackenzie Air Service, left Edmonton Wednesday with five passengers, three for Yellowknife and two for Fort Smith.

GAME HUNTERS BACK IN CITY WITH TROPHIES

Boston Couple Also 'Shoot' Pictures—Another Party Goes North

Reporting excellent hunting and carrying with them splendid specimens of grizzly, caribou and mountain sheep, A. M. Creighton and Richard Borden, Boston, Mass., sportsmen, arrived in Edmonton from a hunting trip spent 300 miles north of Fort St. John.

The specimens will be presented to the Smithsonian Institute, Wash., when the hunters return to the States. As well as getting splendid specimens, the hunting party store than 1,000 feet of motion pictures of the wild life of the territory, and were successful in getting a splendid action of a grizzly charging upon them. The bear was shot just as it was within a few feet distance of the hunter operating the camera.

They will proceed to Boston Wednesday evening, and are spending the night in Edmonton. They are registered at the Macdonald hotel.

STARTING OUT

Seeking specimens of timber wolf, grizzly and mountain sheep, Dr. S. C. Culpepper, Rushville, arrived in Edmonton Tuesday enroute for the origin of the Graham and Halfway Rivers, North West Territories. He is registered at the Macdonald Hotel while outfitting for the trip.

Accompanying him on the trip will be Dr. O. W. and Mrs. Essinger, Cedar Rapids, and Dr. Egan, Chicago. The party will leave for the north on Wednesday, and will spend a month on the hunting grounds.

BIG GAME

Dr. Culpepper has hunted big game in practically every hunting ground in the United States, and in 1935 went on an expedition to Central China. This is his first trip into the Canadian north-west.

Numerous conditions in Hawaii are extremely good, he reports, adding that the Islands did not feel the depression as much anything like the severity of other countries.

FIRE CHIEF TO GET WIFE HOME DUE WAR SCARE

Because of troubled conditions and imminent war in Europe, Fire Chief Albert Dutton is leaving Edmonton Friday for Switzerland, to bring home Mrs. Dutton, who is spending a holiday at her family home.

Mrs. Dutton sailed for the Old Country last June on a two-year ticket but her letters and news in the press have made her husband feel that it is best for her safety that she return immediately.

The fire chief will sail from New York on September 21 on the R.M.S. Queen Mary. He will disembark at Cherbourg, France, and go by train from there to Switzerland.

During the chief's absence the fire department will be administered by Deputy Chief James MacGregor.

Through The Mill

City police court resembled a clothing store Wednesday as a quintity of leather coats, women's knitted suits, and boxes of women's silk stockings were checked over for identification purposes by employees of two local firms from whose premises similar goods had disappeared. Two men, second cousins, were charged with being in possession of stolen property, the value of which, if the two was discharged, when the evidence linking him with the goods was produced. The older man, a salesman operating out of Edmonton, was remanded to September 20 for trial in the supreme court. Another charge against him, that of being in possession of a revolver without a necessary permit, will be aired in the superior court on the same date.

Impressive Warning To Drivers Carried By Motorist In Car

Back from a holiday trip to the United States, a Bulletin motorist carries in his car an impressive warning to motorists to drive carefully.

A bit of paper handed him by a Boy Scout during an "Accident Prevention Week" in Minneapolis has been tacked up over the front seat of his car ever since.

"MAY IT NEVER BE YOUR FUNERAL."
(A True Story.)

"A wave of the hand, a kiss blown on the breeze, from the beautiful little girl in all the world . . .

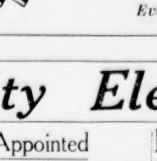

I stood for some moments watching her, a chubby little figure in blue and white, an extremely important little person on her way to school. And then she turned the corner . . .

"It must have been about four o'clock . . . my mind has been sort of deadened since . . . that the Boss sent for me.

"'Bob' said he, laying his hand on my shoulder, 'there's been an accident and you'd better hurry up to the house.' Well, there isn't much more to tell. That little pal of mine . . . she . . . she wasn't at the window watching for me as usual. For a moment I fainted, and then it seemed as though something within me went dead, and I had to fight for breath. In a little time I found out to the gate just as I had that very morning. And I looked down the street as fast I could. Right there in the middle of the road, was where she turned the corner . . . and passed out of my life . . .

"Today it was my little girl, tomorrow, or next day . . . it will be some other little pal quite as dear. And on and on until the carelessness of men shall cry a halt to this passion for fast driving in order to escape danger, or—without danger, stares drivers in the eye."

SCHOOL BOARD REQUESTED TO GIVE SERVICES

Trustees Asked To Supply Free Books, Also Youth Training Quarters

Two delegations, one from the Canadian Legion and one from the Dominion-Provincial Physical Education committee, met with the Edmonton public school board Tuesday evening.

W. "Paddy" Griffin of the Canadian Legion asked the board just what it is prepared to do in supplying school books to the children of ex-servicemen and pensioners. Supt G. A. McKee stated that at present a fund for the benefit of students gets their books from the school board, and he didn't like to take the responsibility of increasing the expenditure.

"I would like to see it handled as generously and sympathetically as possible, but we don't want to step into something we can't handle, and invite a landslide of such requests," Chairman A. E. Ottewell said.

$5,411 FOR BOOKS

Last year $5,411 was spent on school books for needy children, stated Harry Turner, secretary of the board, but it is thought that it will be slightly less for the coming year.

It was finally decided that the superintendent, R. Sheppard, assistant superintendent and Mr. Griffin would confer on individual cases which were recommended by the superintendent as needy.

F. J. Fitzpatrick, chairman of the committee for the Edmonton branch of the provincial physical training scheme, asked that the board consider letting the various organizations make use of sponsor centres use either the Victoria high school gym or the McKay Avenue gym on the North Side, and King Edward school on the South Side. Approximate cost of opening the schools mentioned for one night is $5, Secretary Turner said.

"Who would be responsible for any damage to our buildings and for accidents which might occur?" Trustee George Gleave asked. "It might cost the board a lot of money if we were to open the schools for two or four nights weekly."

QUESTIONS COST

"I don't know whether or not we are justified in spending the tax payers' money which is collected for a purpose not educational," Trustee Bruce Smith added.

Chairman A. E. Ottewell stated that 'We must know where we are going. We want to know the official responsibility of the department of education, which has not be in the position to spend money for adults, which is the class that this scheme would benefit. We can't give you a snap judgment," Mr. Ottewell explained to the delegations. But we will refer your case to our property committee and you will get some pretty quick action."

Up to British Columbia last year the same scheme took care of 22,000 adults, and already in Alberta 63 centres have been provided for.

C.N.R. Carman Is Buried Wednesday: Saw War Service

Funeral services for Robert Norman Stokoe, 45, C.N.R. carman, of 11345 127 street, who died Sunday, were held at 2 p.m. Wednesday in Garneau Masonic Temple. Rev. A. D. Richard officiated. Veteran of three years' service with the 49th Battalion, Mr. Stokoe was born in England, but spent most of his life in Canada.

Surviving him are his wife and two daughters, Gladys and Gloria. Interment was made in the Soldiers' plot in the Edmonton cemetery with Foster and McGarvey in charge of the funeral.

DUCK HUNTING SEASON OPENS NOON THURSDAY

Guns Polished As Nimrods Prepare For Shoot—Birds Plentiful

Nimrods of northern Alberta on Wednesday put finishing touches on their preparations for the opening of the duck hunting season in northern Alberta, which commences at 12 o'clock noon Thursday and continues until Nov. 15. Guns were being polished in many a woodshed and kitchen and new supplies of shells were in bags and cartridge cases ready for the offensive against the feathered fliers.

The season on Thursday opening in "northern Alberta" means that the territory in which shooting takes place is that lying to the north of the railway line running from Camper west.

Reports from all sections of the province are that there is an abundance of ducks and owing to dodge the best efforts of the sportsmen.

Sports goods houses report a brisk trade for shells and other equipment. Sportsmen have been getting their magazine and greasing their guns, and generally gearing up for what promises to be a banner shooting season.

The bag limit is 12 ducks a day, with a possession limit of 36 and a total bag limit for the season of 100.

The Edmonton Stamp Collectors Club will hold a meeting in the Memorial Hall Thursday, September 15, at 8 p.m.

Phil Danis tells me that the entry forms are still pouring into him and from the looks of things it is going to be a first class contest on September 24 when all you Jimmy Allen Cadets turn out at the airport to take part in the Edmonton Lions Club Air Races.

I wonder how you model builders are coming along. Have any of you tried to fly your official contest planes yet? I'd like you to let me know how you are making out. Does the plane fly the way it should? Does it climb? And how long a flight has it made so far? Remember that a flight has to be more than 20 seconds in length to count.

I suppose that some of you must have your planes completed by now. If you have, you want to be sure to get out and practice flying them. Learn all you can about your plane. Find out how it works in different kinds of breezes. Try it against the wind, sideways to the breeze. Try circling it into the wind. Make every kind of test to discover how it performs best.

Remember that flying a model plane is not luck—it is just as much skill as flying a real plane. And the amount of work you put into it will be reflected in the results.

For those of you who are still building your plane it will be well to remember that care counts. See that every part is just right—according to specifications. And when you come to the propeller be sure to sand it carefully. Make the blade as wide as possible, and make it as thin as you can without loss of strength.

'And THIS Is Our Guest Room; It's Bomb-proof!'

BRITISH HOUSEHOLDER HAS CHOICE OF SHELTERS, ABOVE AND BELOW GROUND, FOR WAR-TIME PROTECTION

A simple type of bomb-proof refuge that will shelter air-raided Britons is this backyard concrete tube, entered through a manhole.

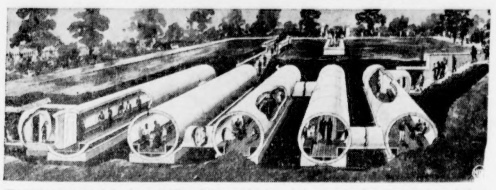

Another type of "family size" concrete tube refuge that is built under a garden. Shrubbery and stones piled up on top in a sort of "rock garden" afford concealment as well as protection.

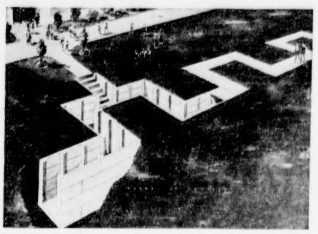

Built into the ground floor of a house, the concrete-walled room above is ordinarily part of the home. In war, it's an air raid shelter.

Said to be proof even against direct hits are shelters made by inserting tubes into a specially built gallery in a hillside.

Cheapest arrangement for large public splinter-proof refuges is in groups such as the one pictured above. They are connected with passage tubes which contain air-tight doors.

Zig-zagging through public parks may soon go such permanent anti-air raid trenches as this. Lined with concrete it will shelter many.

By MILTON BRONNER
Bulletin Foreign Staff Correspondent

LONDON, Sept. 14—John Citizen of Great Britain now can shop for air raid shelters just as he does for neckties or hats.

There is not much choice in material, because the one mostly designated is Portland cement concrete reinforced with steel bars. But John Citizen can have his choice of various kinds of air raid shelters for his own home. He can choose whether to have it in the basement of his home or alongside it, or under in the garden beneath the surface of the earth. If he is the owner of a big shop or of a factory, he can buy bigger shelters to take care of employees.

All this pother is due to the fact that responsible men in the government are convinced that, if Britain is ever involved in a war with a first class European power, large British cities will be targets for war from the air. Therefore, the dangers to civilians, against which protection must be afforded, are mainly from falling bombs.

It is recognized that, particularly in dwelling houses, it would be almost an economic impossibility to provide complete protection from direct hits by huge bombs. But it is possible to have protection from impact, explosion, air disturbance or blast, earth vibration, flying fragments or splinters, falling building material, fire, gas, chemicals and bacteria.

For homes it is suggested that an air raid shelter should comprise a main room, an ante-chamber to form an airlock to prevent free passage of air from the outside, a smaller toilet room and a small storeroom. The best place for this is in the basement.

The Home Office has stated that in determining accommodation of an unventilated air raid shelter, 75 square feet of surface area, including floors, ceiling and walls, is to be allowed to a person for a period not exceeding six hours. Therefore a room nine feet by nine and eight feet high is adequate for six persons. If there were an air filter, this accommodation would suffice for longer than six hours at a stretch. The storeroom would be fitted up with first-aid outfits, rugs, tinned foods, water and other necessary supplies. It is estimated that such a shelter could be constructed for as little as $600.

Of course, the government is not relying upon people as a whole doing this for themselves. Therefore it is arranging for public shelters in case of war. Many big shops and factories are contracting for their own air raid shelters. These, accommodating many employees, will of course, cost considerable sums of money. The Cement and Concrete Association has drawn up ready-made plans for these, based not only on their own calculation, but from knowledge of what the French and the Germans are doing in the same line.

Give Up Old-Fashioned Ideas

By REV. C. P. BRADLEY

I APPEAL to the rank and file of socialism to give up ideas that are hopelessly old-fashioned. Do not trust your leaders. I do not want people to trust me. I want people to think and read, and to govern themselves. Your leaders are not giving you all the facts.

Some of your leaders may not want to abolish poverty; they may prefer to lead it. Poverty has given them a good position, kudos, limelight. Do you think that they will all give that up willingly?

The people have been far too trusting. Some of them still find it hard to believe that finance could have ever played such a murderous trick on the public. Leaders must be made to carry out the will of the people. The will of the people must prevail; otherwise, we have no democracy. If leaders are not prepared to accept the will of the people, then kick out your leaders. People are afraid to govern themselves. They are not used to it. They have been accustomed to electing men to parliament, who then do as they like—or, I should say, as the banks like. That is not democracy; it is fascism. You must bring pressure to bear on your representative, so that parliament shall represent the will of the people. That is democracy.

REV. C. P. BRADLEY

PUBLICITY GIVEN

I suppose you socialists have noticed that the papers are giving much publicity to socialist leaders? Why do you think the bankers' papers are boosting socialists? There is but one answer: the banker believes that socialism will leave the banks in control of money. That means that you will still have your poverty and hardship. Watch the newspapers; anything that they praise must be the enemy of the people and the friend of the banks; anything that they condemn, must be the friend of the people and the enemy of the banks. Will the representatives of poverty abolish poverty? Some of them may. Will the leaders who fatten on this wicked system, abolish the system? Will flies abolish a manure heap?

If the people were to give up luxuries, and buy only necessaries, there would be plenty for all? Would there be any more money about? Would you be able to find more employment? If the people give up sweets, and buy meat, what would be the result? Less men would work in the sweets trade, and more men would work in the meat trade. You would merely transfer poverty from one trade to another. Until you alter the system, any scheme will fail, because, you only transfer money from one pocket to another, and you are no better off. There will be the same number employed. If people were all kind? Same result. No more money in the community.

SOON BE BANKRUPT

Same number of unemployed. If a businessman decide to be kind to his employees, he will soon be bankrupt. Most of them have a struggle to make ends meet at any time. If a businessman pay more to his employees, the extra cost would have to go into prices, and who would buy his goods?

If people had to borrow blood from their doctor, they would be very insecure; and kind hearts would not make them any more secure. They would have to take back the right to control their own blood supply. The doctor would not willingly give up that power. There is nothing in history to cause us to even hope that the banker will relax his paralysing grip on the people. Until he does relax, or is made to relax his hold, kindness of heart will not abolish poverty and insecurity. In fact, I agree with the C. of E. Bishop in Australia, who said it was impossible to be honest in business life. He said that a man may be the most honest man in the community, in his private life; but "business is business." He was not blaming the man; he was blaming the system. Several businessmen came to me, afterwards, and said that they agreed with the Bishop; that the system compelled them to do things that they hated doing.

All that we ask is for a law to prevent powerful men from wrecking the lives of other men. These money barons say to the clergy: "You go back to your pulpits; your job is to mend the lives of men in your parish." Today, the clergy reply: "But, you have a wicked system that is smashing men's lives much faster than we can mend them." The money barons are saying to the women: "You go back to your homes; your job is to keep house and be mothers." The women reply: "But, you have a silly system that is robbing my home; you take clothes out of my wardrobe, and food off my table." You, we must all unite in a demand for freedom. A united demand is real democracy. President Roosevelt said, "The function of parliament is to yield to pressure." Don't be down-hearted, my friends, if we persist, we must win.

Number 13 Follows Jenny From London to Canada

VANCOUVER, Sept. 14—To a group of Vancouver Great War veterans Jenny Morris, war "mother" of many a Canadian soldier in London between 1914 and 1918, described last night how the number 13 had dodged her since she left England a month ago to visit "my boys."

She left on Aug. 13 with the farewells of 13 friends in her ears and 13 telegrams in her pocket. Her passport contained the number 13; her first hotel room was 1310; she arrived in Vancouver Sept. 13 and was immediately given a hotel suite numbered 1650.

She recounted how the number had cropped up during a reception in her honor Tuesday night. The affair was attended by Vancouver members of the Canadian Legion, including many of the men who boarded at her home at 34 Bedford Place, London, during their leaves from the front.

She arrived in Vancouver yesterday on a C.P.R. Canadian liner, which is being paid for by the men she befriended.

"I see Mr. Sandy every day or so. Here—take a look." He gave her a manila envelope. "Open—read." She glanced from the envelope to Bruce. This was a different Bruce, a more determined Bruce than she had ever known. "All right—sit down."

She opened the envelope. Drew out a sheaf of sheets of white paper. Bruce said: "Sold that last month—wanted to surprise you, so didn't mention it."

Linda's eyes swept through the line. She looked up. "You rascal! You've put Uncle Sandy in this, he's the whole show!"

Bruce grinned. "No. Just a composite of the Uncle Sandys in the Blue Grass. About time for a new character in light fiction. Like Ephraim Tutt, or Tugboat Annie, or old Judge Priest—only different." He sobered. "They want more."

"Bruce, this is great! Sell it yourself!"

He shook his head. "Remember my agent—those two young women in New York?" She nodded. "Best in the business. They've been fooling with me—oh, for years." It was true, Linda recalled. "Haven't made a nickel on me. Don't see why they haven't thrown me over. Still getting a bit ashamed, I went to work."

He got up, took the proofs from her. "Get to 20—correct these tonight. Map out another one. Be seeing you." He smiled — and was out the door with another word. Linda stood still a moment. Heard his footsteps die out. A catch came in her throat—

She shook her head. "None o' that, m'girl," she told herself grimly; sat down at the typewriter again, began pounding the keys.

Four days later Uncle Sandy asked. "Read the entries this morning?"

Yes she hadn't. She, too was busy writing. The old horseman sniffed. "And you the owner! Golden Boy I dropped him into a condition race this afternoon. Six furlongs."

"Uncle — why didn't you tell me you were going to? I thought you had decided to hold him back for the Stakes?"

"He needs education'; you be in the paddock at 4 o'clock."

And at 4 o'clock Norman led the blanketed colt into the enclosure. The saddle bell rang, valets trooped in with their jockeys' silks—some down the line. Uncle Sandy skillfully saddled him. Then jockeys—the sun flashing on their silks—came down the line, back pads. Said the trainer: "I got Marder ridin'—best boy there be for handlin' a green 2-year-old."

A jockey in the scarlet jacket, purple cross sashes and sleeves of Gordon colors stopped at their stall. He had the build of a strippling, the face of a matured man. "Listen to me, Marder," Uncle Sandy was giving last-minute instructions, "you here colt has early foot—and he's a slayer. Get out in front — push him—make every post a winnin' post. Understand?"

Marder, who had ridden a thousand horses to victory, nodded, said nothing. Chewed gum as if unconcerned. The bugle sounded the call to the post. The jockey grasped the reins with one hand, his saddle with the other. "Up you go!" Uncle Sandy threw him up. The horses paraded past.

Linda, her nerves a-jingle, went with Uncle Sandy into the infield, to watch the race closely. "If there ain't no delay—" the trainer muttered. Then—

"They're off!"

The shout went up from the stands as the field shot out from starting gate. "Dure if he don't get out in front." Uncle Sandy said, as a great golden animal, ridden by a jockey in scarlet and purple, streaked ahead of the pack. "He's opened daylight—yes, sir, we got a right good colt." Uncle Sandy spoke as if talking "Now they comin' to the turn — he's opening up more daylight."

Whoa, there!" the trainer shouted excitedly. His trained eyes saw it first. Now Linda saw — and her heart seemed to stop. Golden Boy was running wide coming into the stretch — running to the outside fence—Marder was fighting him.

"Oh, shucks!" Uncle Sandy exclaimed. "Come on—race is over for us." But it wasn't quite. The colt lost a half dozen lengths on the run-out; but Marder, speeding him along the iron-path by the outer rail, managed to finish fourth.

The disappointed crowd—Golden Toy had been heavily played—hissed and booed as Marder rode back to weigh out. Uncle Sandy took Linda's arm. "Don't worry, honey—the crowd's always a fool," he said.

Marder slid from the colt, jerked the saddle off, weighed out then came to Uncle Sandy as a disgruntled Norman blanketed the colt and led him away.

"What happened, son?" Uncle Sandy asked.

Marder took a deep breath. Said: "Awful sorry, boss—but I couldn't help it. We was three-quarters around the turn—I was holding him steady, then, like a flash o' lightnin' he shot to the rail."

Uncle Sandy nodded. Repeated the track's oldest phrase. "Better luck next time." Then, "I want you for the Stakes, son. We'll break him of that." The trainer started back to the stable, to cool out the colt. Linda went through the gate with Uncle Sandy and Marder. And almost ran into Monte Hill's arms.

"Linda!" I just dropped in from New York! Been looking for you. Then I saw the Toy entered. Knew I'd find you at the finish. Come on — I've got something important to tell you."

CHAPTER XV

THEY were sitting at a table in the clubhouse when Monte Hill exploded his bombshell.

"Linda, want to pick up $10,000?" He leaned the glorious casualty, but she saw a tense look in his eyes.

She was silent for a long while. Just looked at him. "Monte—what's the game?" she asked at last.

He answered her obliquely. "You've got a fast colt. But on race track, anything may happen. Next Saturday. If he does, he loses—sure. Even if he doesn't, there's no guarantee that he'll win."

"Well?" She looked at him levelly.

He dropped his voice almost to a whisper. "I don't want you to start him in the Stakes."

She felt herself stiffen. "Why not?"

He glanced away an instant. Then faced her. "Linda, all the good 2-year-olds, except my Merry Maid and your Golden Toy, have been raced to death this year. The race is between us—unless the Toy runs out again; then I've got it in the bag."

"Well? Afraid to face us, Monte?" He answered with a question. "What's the race worth to you—if you win?"

"About $12,000 — the winner's share, and from cartwright has an option to buy at $17,500, a grand total of $29,500."

"And nothing if you run out of the money."

"Right."

"I'm offering you $10,000 not to start him. And, if Merry Maid wins, I'll give you $10,000 more."

She drew a deep breath. "Monte — you're talking in big figures. Explain."

He said: "Three months ago, I got odds of 12 to 1 against the Maid in the Stakes. I put up $4,000. I

WAGE INCREASE FOR EMPLOYEES TAX DIVISION

OTTAWA, Sept. 14—About 700 of the 1,300 employees of the income tax division of the national revenue department throughout Canada will receive salary increases through an extensive reclassification of the division. The reclassification was undertaken by the civil service commission and approved by the treasury board on the recommendation of Mr. Magee.

No employee in the income tax division has received any salary increase since September, 1934. The reclassification was undertaken, as promised by Hon. J. L. Ilsley, Minister of Revenue, to place employees of the income tax division on the same comparable footing as to classification and salaries as other government departments.

Amount of salary increases was not indicated.

Looking Them Over

By Jack Kelly

Rapier Words

It's Shameful!

Some Low-Down

IT was lying on my desk when I barged into the office last night. After a glance at the expensive stationery and a whiff of the delicate perfume with which the envelope was scented, I figured that my old pal, the countess, had finally broken down and written me after all these long sad years since we parted in Paris, or Peru—or, come to think of it, it may have been Painted Post.

Then I get both eyes full of the bold, masculine handwriting and the letter drops from my hands as my heart drops back into place. Eventually I attack it with the scissors. Out comes a note from Dizzy Davis, the snooty first lord of Promoter Mike Cutcher's wrestling peerage. Here it is verbatim. Just imagine that the delicate perfume of old roses is in your nostrils and a sheet of heavy, monogramed notepaper in your hand as you read, and you will get the same thrill as I did.

"Sports Editor,

"Edmonton Bulletin.

"Dear Sir—While perusing your sport pages, I find that my worthy opponent in last week's wrestling feature, 'Soldier' Thomas, is endeavoring to find a channel which he hopes may lead him to a return match with myself.

"His method of procedure is very crude, to say the least—exactly what might be expected of a fellow of his type who is accustomed to the company of army mules and top sergeants. He has the effrontery to suggest that we meet again and that the loser wheel the winner down Jasper avenue in a wheelbarrow. If at any time I should feel like pushing a wheelbarrow down a public thoroughfare, I am sure that I have intelligence enough to apply for a common day laborer's job.

"Being rated as high as I am by the National Wrestling Association puts me in a position where I have everything to lose and nothing to gain by meeting him again. I realize after our last match that he is an opponent who cannot be taken lightly and I do not propose to be lowered from the high ranking that I have attained through my cleverness and years of hard work.

"I am, therefore, taking this method of putting my position before you in the hope that you may see my side of this degrading proposal in the same light as I do.

"I am, sincerely yours,

"DANDY DAVIS."

May'be We'll Frame It

AFTER taking a gander at that gorgeous dressing gown Davis designed for himself and wears with such savoir faire, I have steadfastly contended that he is a really remarkable man. That letter of his makes me absolutely certain. It has the sparkle and cut of a rapier thrust. There is a diplomatic acidity about it—a bite such as might send nations flying at each other's throats. It is a document which even a Hitler might envy. It is unquestionably the product of a mind far removed from the crude vulgarities of the common people.

Imagine Davis riding in state down Jasper in a wheelbarrow—or perhaps pushing a common soldier in such an uncouth contraption! I simply shudder at the hideous thought. My finer sensibilities recoil from the shameful picture.

Allah forbid that such an event should come to pass. It would be like the famous ride that Lady Godiva did clad only in a marcel and a blush. The hundreds of Edmonton girls who are that way about Davis would undoubtedly stay indoors and pull down their window blinds while he trundled past, just as the gallant gentlemen did when Lady Godiva made her ride at the command of her cruel husband.

But if Davis and Thomas should lock horns again this Friday nothing short of sudden death will keep me away from a ringside pew. For hair-raising entertainment there is nothing in the sport world that is quite the same as Dizzy and the Soldier at war with each other.

Does Braddock Cut On Champ's Purses?

ABOUT a month ago this column suggested that some mighty interesting things would be uncovered if any one could find out just how the winnings of Champion Joe Louis are cut up. It was a tip that filtered up the fistic grapevine from California. Yesterday Joe Williams, sports editor of the New York World-Telegram, broke part of the story. He states that Jimmy Braddock collects 10 per cent of the champ's purses and 20 per cent of Promoter Mike Jacobs' net profit as the result of an agreement signed before Braddock entered the ring with Louis in Chicago and lost his heavyweight title. Joe says there is nothing unusual about fading titleholders insisting on agreements of this sort.

It does not follow that Braddock laid down to Louis. Jimmy was simply forcing the best deal he could. If Joe Williams probes deeper, he may also find that Promoter Mike Jacobs has provided Max Baer with a comfortable life annuity as a result of the first Baer-Louis fight, the same being something that didn't show in the contract filed with the boxing commission. Furthermore, it may be discovered that Joe Louis is on a straight yearly salary guarantee with Mike Jacobs, the figure being $75,000. Joe's earnings above that go chiefly to Jacobs with the champ's nominal managers getting a small cut.

Start On 24th Season This Saturday

In fine form after a brisk fall training grind, the Commercial Grads will open their 24th consecutive season of big time basketball here on Saturday evening at the Arena, when they clash with the Engravers from Canton, Ohio, in the first game of a best of five series for the Underwood international challenge trophy. Engravers are rated one of the strongest teams in the United States at present. Above are the Grads. Standing, left to right, Babe Daniel, Jean Williamson, Coach Percy Page, Captain Noel MacDonald and Mabel Munton. Kneeling, left to right, Sophie Brown, Etta Dann and Helen Northup.

Five Canadians Get High Fight Ratings

MONTREAL, Sept. 14.—Joey Archibald of Pawtucket, R.I., and Leo Rodak of Chicago will fight it out for the world's featherweight crown vacated Monday by Henry Armstrong, the National Boxing Association decided at its 19th annual convention here Tuesday.

The bout will be scheduled as for not less than 15 rounds, the association decided. Archibald was given the No. 1 spot in the ratings, with Rodak in No. 2 position.

The world's flyweight championship vacancy will be filled by the winner of another 15-round bout between winners of encounters between Small Montana, Philippines, and Aurelien Lamothe of Quebec, in Washington, D.C., and Jackie Jurich of San Jose, Cal., and Britain's Peter Kane in England. The title became vacant when Benny Lynch of Scotland failed to make the weight for a match.

AGAINST MULTIPLE TITLES

The world's largest boxing body recommended titleholders in one division should relinquish their titles before competing in championship bouts in higher class weights. The move was suggested by Secretary Ed Foster of Providence, R.I., who termed the triple crown position of Henry Armstrong "ridiculous." Armstrong vacated his featherweight title later in the day.

Drawing up of the ratings was the main item of business during the second day of the three-day convention.

WENSTOB RATED

Five Canadians were ranked today by the National Boxing Association as being within the first 10 title contenders of their various classes. Named were Baby Yack of Toronto, Eddie Wenstob of Edmonton, Aurelien La Mothe of Quebec City, Maxie Berger of Montreal, and Terrance (Tiger) Warrington of Liverpool, N.S.

Warrington, colored holder of both the eastern Canadian heavyweight and light-heavyweight titles, was ranked eighth in the N.B.A. light-heavyweight ratings. Wenstob was listed 10th in the same class.

BERGER NAMED

Montreal's Maxie Berger, better known in the lightweight ranks, was named eighth-place contender for the welterweight title, now held by Henry Armstrong.

Johnny Gaudes, a native of St. Boniface, Man., who has been fighting out of Milwaukee, was chosen for fifth place among the bantamweight challengers. Young Baby Yack, former Toronto newsboy, was put in 10th place in this division.

Aurelien Lamothe of Quebec City, with a list of impressive fights, was given fifth ranking in the flyweight division.

Newspaper Ace Wins Senior Golf

REGINA, Sept. 14.—Ernie Phaneuf, provincial editor of the Leader-Post, playing in his first tournament, won the senior golf championship of Saskatchewan here Tuesday. He defeated George Peacock in the final on the 13th green. The event is open to Saskatchewan golfers 55 years and over.

TELLING ON GEHRINGER

DETROIT — Charley Gehringer, elected by fans as the most popular second baseman, is known as the Silent Man. It has just been disclosed that he once won an oratorical contest in high school.

Veteran Ace Saves Buffalo Playoff Battle

SYRACUSE, N.Y., Sept. 14.—George Uhle, veteran coach of Buffalo Bisons, saved a 3-2 victory for his club in the opening game of their International baseball league playoff series with Syracuse Chiefs before 7,572 fans last night.

Uhle came in with the bases full and two out in the last of the ninth to strike out Bongo Bongiovanni and end the game.

Ken Ash, starting Buffalo hurler, won his own game in the sixth when he doubled with the bases full to drive in all three Buffalo runs.

Buffalo	000 003 000—3	9	1
Syracuse	000 010 010—2	12	0

Ash, Jacobs, Uhle and Phillips; Kleinhans, Miner, Benge and D. Moore.

Rochester Reds Tumble Newark

NEWARK, N. J. Sept 14.—Sparked by the hitting of rookie catcher Floyd Beal, Rochester Red Wings shaded the international league champion Newark Bears 3-2 in a 12-inning thriller in the opening game of the Governor's Cup playoffs.

Beal doubled in the eighth to tie the score and then singled in the 12th with the bases loaded to drive in two runs and settle the game.

Newark, first in the regular league race, is playing Rochester, which finished third, in a best-of-seven series.

Aussie Cricket Eleven Defeated By English Team

SCARBOROUGH, Eng., Sept. 14—H. D. G. Leveson-Gower's eleven defeated the Australians by 10 wickets in their final game in England. It was the first loss suffered by an Australian team in this country, apart from test competition, for 17 years.

The Antipodeans, captained by Stanley McCabe in the absence of the injured Don Bradman, were dismissed for a meagre second-innings total of 102 after compiling 306 runs in their first turn at the wickets. The strong English eleven which included many test players obtained 363 and 46 for no wickets.

W. W. Armstrong's touring team of 1921 was the last side to have its colors lowered, going under to A. C. McLaren's eleven at Eastbourne. The Australians have not been defeated by an English county since 1912.

The tour concluded this week. The Aussies leave for Ireland and Thursday oppose Gentlemen of Ireland at Dublin.

William Bowes, Yorkshire, whose fast bowling was one of the chief factors in the Australians defeat in the fifth test match last month, took five wickets for 42 runs Tuesday.

W. A. Brown and J. H. Fingleton, the invaders' opening batsmen made a stand for the first wicket, the former carrying his bat for 38. Fingleton had a painstaking 20.

Clavel Badcock was dismissed before he had scored and McCabe and Sidney Barnes, other powerful hitters, each scored a single.

"Jew's harp" has nothing to do with the race; the name is a corruption of "jaw's harp."

Father Divine Quells Ball Fracas in Heaven

By HENRY McLEMORE
Special Bulletin Sport Writer

HOPE FARM, MILTON, N. Y., Sept. 14.—I saw a baseball game in "Heaven" yesterday. I saw an angel start a double play, cherubims steal second, third, and home, and seraphims lose a high fly in the sun.

The angels didn't have wings or harps or beautiful golden hair. They were little colored boy angels, in torn knickers and canvas shoes, who had come up the Hudson to "Heaven" right smack along with their "God," Father Divine.

The dusky little Angels grew tired of hearing "God" talk, long about three in the afternoon, and stole away from the throne room, where the smell was that of fried chicken and corn on the cob, not of incense and myrrh. They squirmed away from mothers and fathers, packed tight in a big room, repeating, "Peace, Father," and "Peace, ain't it wonderful," and stole to the out-of-doors to choose up sides.

They didn't have any trouble finding a baseball in "Heaven" and they didn't have any trouble finding a bat. They found a big, tall kid who might have been an understudy for Gabriel to act as umpire, and the game was on.

LOOKING OVER AN "ANGEL"

I moved around behind home plate, because I was curious to see what an Angel pitcher could put on the ball. Lo and behold! The little colored pitcher didn't have a thing but a roundhouse out. I thought it cut the corner of the plate for a strike, but I couldn't hear what the umpire called it because just then Father Divine's voice boomed through the loudspeaker:

"I am the mysterious and the suspicious and the victorious overcomer of all opposing opposition. I am the light and the candle and the transmitter of all prohibitation. Ride them wings of morning toward a heaven that ain't geographical."

During the time I tried to figure out this "Divine" message the bases became loaded and, on an infield hit, there was a close play at the plate.

THE ARGUMENT STARTS

The umpire called the runner out. Angels, Cherubims and Seraphims became mixed up in a violent argument over the decision. Words were said and looks were passed that have no place in "heaven."

"Peace, ain't it wonderful?" the loudspeaker said. "Peace, ain't it wonderful?"

The umpire caught his cue. "Peace, ain't it wonderful?" he called.

PEACE COMES TO CHERUBIMS

The scrapping little angels unbundled their fists and beatific smiles came to their faces. They murmured, "Peace, Father, ain't it wonderful."

The game went on.

If the sample I saw yesterday of Father Divine's power over arguing ball players is a true example of what he can do, then I think there is a place for him in major league baseball in case his various "heavens" start folding. What an umpire he would make:

"Peace, Ducky Medwick."

"Peace, Burleigh Grimes."

Peace, wouldn't that be something?

ENDS BUSY SEASON

MELBOURNE—The Victoria Racing Club wound up the 1938 season with a profit of £20,727 ($80,835). More than £90,000 ($351,000) was paid in prizes during the meet.

Divine Ump

Above you see the only man alive who can stop a baseball battle by simply saying, "Peace, ain't it wonderful!" He's Father Divine, whom thousands of Harlem negroes call "God." He is shown above sitting on a special high seat in his imported car, driving through Harlem and waving to his "angels" who throng the street.

Pahl Brothers Seeking Fights Alberta Rings

VANCOUVER, Sept. 14. — Bud Davies, stocky manager of the fighting Pahl brothers, of Richdale, Alta., said today his boys would be seen in action in a Calgary ring within the next six weeks.

While uncertain who their opponents would be, Davies said Danny and Packy would fight either Sept. 23 or Oct. 7. They will appear on the same card as another Davies protege, Les Ferguson, of Vancouver, who leaves here shortly to join the Pahl brothers in training at Richdale.

Davies expects Ferguson, six-foot-three heavyweight who has been boxing this summer in the interior of British Columbia, will meet either Darcy Clayton, of Bluffton, Alta., or Dick Johnson, of Ponoka, Alta.

He said the Pahl brothers had picked up the weight they lost following their return to Canada last June after a successful season in England.

There was nothing wrong with Danny's jaw, broken in Toronto July 18 by Jack O'Sullivan. Danny wants a rematch and Packy also is anxious to avenge the decision he dropped to Mickey Benson on the same card. The boys would also like a match with Eddie Wenstob.

Davies isn't worried by the brothers' twin defeat in their first match in the dominion after the English tour. He blamed it on the climate, which he says causes every boxer coming from England to drop his first bout in North America.

"Look at Tommy Farr," he added.

New Stars Join Hamilton Gridders

HAMILTON, Ont., Sept. 14—Norton Freeman, Burlington boy who worked two seasons with Winnipeg Blue Bombers, and Truman Paiton, former Bonaventure College star who suffered a broken collar bone two years ago, have joined the 1938 edition of Hamilton's Big Four football squad, coach Jerry Brock announced last night. Both are backfielders.

English Rugby

LONDON, Sept. 14.—Keighley blanked Leigh 23-0 and Broughton Rangers defeated Rochdale 22-7 in English Rugby League matches played here Tuesday.

SETS GLIDING RECORD

SHREWSBURY, Eng.—After only five days' practice, A. N. Young, 22, broke the English single-seater gliding record. He was 15¾ hours in the air, breaking the old mark by nearly 80 minutes.

Superior Blues Win To Tie Series

SUPERIOR, Wis., Sept. 14.—Timely hitting of Moose Kennedy, Superior first-baseman, boomed the Blues to a 4-1 victory last night over Crookston Pirates to tie the Northern League playoff at two games each in the four-of-seven series.

WAUSAU, Wis., Sept. 14.—Wausau dropped its third straight Northern league playoff game to Duluth last night 8-7 as the Dukes took advantage of four errors and three hits to come from behind with five runs in the eighth inning. The series is four-of-seven.

BRADMAN BREAKS JINX

MANCHESTER, Eng. — Statisticians point out that Don Bradman has scored only one century at the Old Trafford ground here. He hit the 100-mark early this summer against Lancashire.

Nelson Out Front Kootenay Lacrosse

NELSON, B. C. Sept. 14.—Nelson Maple Leafs downed Trail Smoke Eaters 19-11 here last night to take a 2-1 edge in games in the best of five series for the West Kootenay Box Lacrosse League championship.

The teams move to Trail for the fourth game Thursday night. If a fifth is necessary it will be played here Saturday night. Winners of the series will meet the yet-to-be decided intercity league champions at the coast.

OPPOSES MORE TOURS

MELBOURNE. — Rev. Canon Hughes, member of Victoria Cricket Association, said here that Don Bradman had threatened to retire from test cricket if suggestions materialized that international tours should be made every three years. He would quit for business reasons, Canon Hughes added.

CANADIANS QUALIFY FOR MATCH PLAY U.S. GOLF

Ontario Golfers Well Under Limit

Somerville, Thompson Play Steady Game, While Young Peiora, Illinois, Ace Cops Medal Honors

OAKMONT COUNTRY CLUB, OAKMONT, Pa., Sept. 14.—Two Canadians—C. Ross (Sandy) Somerville of London, Ont., and stocky Joe Thompson of Hamilton, Ont.—fired steady golf over the tough Oakmont layout Tuesday to qualify easily for match play today in the United States amateur championship.

Thompson took 36 on the outgoing nine and came back in 38 for a 76—four over par—to add to Monday's round of 77 for a 36-hole qualifying total of 153, seven strokes within the qualifying limit. Somerville finished one stroke behind him.

TO ASSIST BRENTFORD

BRENTFORD, Eng.—A. H. Gibbons, the England and former Tottenham Hotspur forward, will play for Brentford in the English soccer league when not required for Royal Air Force matches this year.

SWISS MEET ARSENAL

LONDON—The Swiss soccer team which surprised with a 2-1 victory over England at Zurich this summer, will play Arsenal at Highbury, Sept. 21.

Canadian Pair Will Meet Today

OAKMONT, Pa., Sept. 14.—Canada will have only one representative in the United States amateur golf championship after the first round of match play today, it became known last night with announcement of first-round pairings.

The luck of the draw sends C. Ross (Sandy) Somerville of London, Ont., against Little Joe Thompson of Hamilton, Ont., in today's first 18 holes of match play.

They were the only Canadians who carded better than 160 in the qualifying rounds Tuesday and Monday. Somerville carded 154 for the 36 holes and Thompson 153.

Two 18-hole rounds today will cut the field to 16. Four will survive Thursday's two rounds to enter the semi-finals Friday over the 36-hole route. The winners there advance to Saturday's 36-hole final round.

Favorites Run Far From Money Victoria Races

VICTORIA, Sept. 14.—Favorites found the going tough at the Willows Park and long shot punters clicked for double prices on every race on the program.

Rube Wilson paid $29.80 in the second and Four Moi was worth $28.30 for a $2 nose ticket in the fourth to top the double prizes.

Bettors coupling Rube Wilson and Keaton in the third received $137 for the daily double. The one-two in the fifth paid $26.35 and $106.25 in the seventh.

Louie Dear nipped across the finish line first in the opening race but was disqualified for jamming at the club house turn. Speef was given first place, paying $13.15, $5.45 and $3.55. Geo. E. Millar was second and Royal Chef third.

The six-hour working day was given as one of the ideal conditions in Sir Thomas More's "Utopia," published in 1516.

WATCH FOR THE EATON FLIER

Leaves City

RICHARD TOUGAS

Brilliant young right winger for last year's champion Edmonton Athletic Club junior team, will be lost to Edmonton hockey fans this winter. Young Dick Tougas, pictured above, will leave this city on Tuesday for University of Southern California. He will enroll in dentistry. He also plans to play for the U. of S.C. hockey team. This is the same college that Eric Benchamp is attending. In losing Tougas, Edmonton juniors lose a starry young player. But everyone wishes him every success.

Lamb Leads In Pro. Golf Tournament

KINGSTON, Ont., Sept. 14.—Bob Lamb of Toronto shot two splendid rounds on Cataraqui Golf and Country Club course to take a one-stroke lead at the halfway mark of the Canadian Professional Golfers' Association championship. Lamb was one under par with 139.

Brother of the more famous Willie, three times P.G.A. champion, Bob was the lone entrant of the select 34-man field whose total for the first of two days play better standard figures. But right behind were Gordie Brydson of Toronto Mississaga and the pro-turnery favorite, Stanley Horne of Ottawa.

Brydson put together two rounds of 70, even par, to take the runner-up position from Horne, holder of the title for the past two years, whose 141 was fashioned from a 71 morning round and a 70 in the afternoon. Lamb, however, was hotter than either of them in the morning, blazing home in 69 and following with a 70.

With 36 holes to be played today the scramble for Horne's crown remained wide open.

Partick Thistles Top Soccer Loop

GLASGOW, Sept. 14. — Partick Thistle joined Clyde and Queen of the South at the top of the Scottish football league Tuesday by defeating Raith Rovers 2-1. The three clubs each have 10 points. Thistles have played an extra game.

In the other major league matches Hearts won 1-0 at Falkirk and St. Mirren won a home game against Queen's Park by a 2-1 score. It was the Saints' first victory of the current campaign.

CHINGFORD, Eng.—W. W. Latham, a former captain of the club, scored a hole of 252 yards, with a bogey of four, in one stroke at the Royal Epping Forest golf course.

British Net Ace Fears Not Talented Budge

FOREST HILLS, N.Y., Sept. 14.—Charles Edgar Hare, veteran British tennis internationalist, received a 24-hour reprieve when an overnight rain washed out Monday's matches in the United States singles championships.

Hare is scheduled to meet quadruple champion Don Budge. Though Budge has lost only a few sets during the summer season started, the giant British southpaw who tackles him this afternoon insisted he felt no different about playing Budge than he would about playing tiddle-de-winks with his grandmother.

Having discovered in last year's Davis cup challenge round that he could give Budge a battle for at least one-Big Red finally won at 15-13—Hare definitely is determined to make a match of it this time.

The Budge-Hare match should be the chief attraction in the men's division as the four remaining brackets in the quarter-final round are filled. Other pairings are Sidney Wood (France) Kukuljevic of Yugoslavia, Don McNeil with Australia's Harry Hopman, and Aussie Adrian Quist with Bitsy Grant.

Closest of the women's matches promises to be that between Kay Stammers of England and Barbara Winslow of Hollywood.

BALLOT BOXES SEIZED WHEN PROTEST MADE

Governor Acts Fast In South Carolina Democratic Election

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14—National guardsmen seized the ballot boxes in Charleston county, South Carolina, Tuesday night as a result of a protest from one candidate in the state's Democratic governor's runoff primary election.

Wyndham Manning, who earlier in the vote counting had been leading his opponent, Burnet Maybank, but later dropped behind, made the protest to Governor Olin Johnson, and the governor acted at once.

DROPPED BEHIND

With but 21 of the state's 1,505 precincts unreported, Maybank had 160,728 and Manning 147,133. The count in Charleston county was 21,355 for Maybank and 1,265 for Manning.

Meanwhile a close contest developed in the Republican governor's primary in New Hampshire. A total of 171 of the state's 297 voting districts gave Governor Francis P. Murphy 15,352 votes to 14,009 for Thomas Cheney. Representative C. W. Tobey was leading for the Republican senatorial nomination and Arthur B. Jenks for one Republican house of representatives nomination, while Foster Stearns led for the other.

GOVERNOR RENOMINATED

Otherwise the primaries stood: Senator Carl Hayden, Democrat, seeking renomination in Arizona held a comfortable lead.

J. K. Griffith, Newt V. Mills and T. O. Brooks, Louisiana Democratic house of representatives members, were all in front.

In Michigan former Governor Frank Fitzgerald was running well ahead of Henry Toy, for the Republican governor's nomination and the right to meet Governor Frank Murphy, Democrat, in the November elections. Murphy was unopposed.

Cleveland Dog Wins In All-age Event at Pierson

PIERSON, Man., Sept. 14.—Mississippi Broomhill Jake, white and liver pointer owned by Col. C. B. Goss of Cleveland, won the all-ages stakes from a field of 40 dogs in the initial event of the all-American field trial club championships here.

The same dog placed second in the Saskatchewan all-age stakes and won the Dominion event this year. His total purse money will approximate $2,000.

Second place went to Uneas Flying Devil, white and liver pointer owned by E. E. Ryster, York, Pa., while third went to Little Ken, owned by Walter McGee of Jackson, Miss. Gold Dot, white and liver pointer owned by D. B. McDaniels of Houston, Texas, won the amateur championship also completed today. Lester's Enjoy Wahoo, owned by Dr. B. S. Lester of Birmingham, Ala., was second and Alleghany Baconrind, owned by Capt. R. H. Clemmer of Waynesboro, Va., third.

Yanks Hit Western Trip With Ruffing in Hero Role

CLEVELAND, Sept. 14.—New York Yankees opened their last western invasion in spectacular style Tuesday by whipping Cleveland Indians 7-1 behind Charlie Ruffing's eight-hit pitching.

Ruffing won his 21st game and edged over the .700 mark in games won for the first time in his 15 years of big league ball.

The Indians, locked in a battle for second place with Boston Red Sox, stayed a half-game astern the Bostons, who also lost. The Yanks need only five more victories to clinch the American League pennant.

Alberta Gas Reduction Order Shelved One Month

100 Turner Vale Wells Get Chance Devise New Plan

Law Limiting Daily Gas Production Was To Have Been Effective Today—Re-pressuring System To Cost $2,000,000

CALGARY, Sept. 14.—Operators of 100 gas producing wells in the Turner Valley field will have another month in which to consider re-pressuring plans, estimated to cost $2,000,000.

Enforcement of an order of the Alberta Petroleum and Natural Gas Conservation Board, which would reduce gas production to 40,000,000 cubic feet daily, has been postponed to Oct. 15, it was announced last night.

The order, which was issued Aug 31, was to have become effective today.

TO SUPPLY DEMANDS

The order was postponed, the board's statement said, to allow producers sufficient production to fill present market demands and also afford operators the further opportunity of taking the requisite measures for re-pressuring the Turner Valley field.

At present more than 250,000,000 cubic feet of gas is wasted in the field daily, burned in flares after the naphtha has been extracted.

CAN AVOID LOSS

Delay in enforcing the conservation order was requested by the operators to allow time for the consideration of a re-pressuring plan. Enforcement of the conservation order, operators claim, would mean a loss in revenue of approximately three-quarters of a million dollars yearly.

A re-pressuring scheme under consideration would permit the present open flow of gas for processing in absorption plants but after it had been processed it would be pumped back into "storage wells" and there would be no loss.

BREJSKA TELLS UNITED STATES CZECHS READY

Army Small, But Well Equipped—Hull Posts Roosevelt

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14.—Dr. Karel Brejska, Czech charge d'Affairs here, said Tuesday that Czechoslovakia was ready to defend herself and would never voluntarily sacrifice any part of her territory."

His remarks were made in the prepared text of a broadcast conversation between him and an interviewer.

MODERN ARMS

"The army," he said, "is equipped with modern arms and the firm determination of the people to defend their country compensates for what may be lacking in numerical strength. The soldiers know they would be defending a just cause."

Opinion at the state department was that the Sudeten ultimatum put a more serious aspect on the Czech-German dispute.

State Secretary Hull conferred several hours with advisers and said he was keeping in touch with President Roosevelt by telephone daily. The President has been at Rochester, Minn., where his son James underwent an operation.

NOTED BRITISH OFFICER EXPECTS NAZI INVASION

CARLISLE, England, Sept. 14.—Great Britain will find itself in Czechoslovakia's plight within two years if Germany is allowed to "destroy" the republic, Brig.-Gen. Edward L. Spears, Conservative member of parliament and chief of the British military mission at Paris during the Great War, said here last night.

"I'm afraid it will be almost a miracle now if events do not develop in such a way that the Germans will attack Czechoslovakia," he said.

"If Germany is allowed to destroy Czechoslovakia and thereby to dominate Europe, within two years we in this country will be in the position that Czechoslovakia is in today.

"We shall be a small, helpless country, with no friend—compelled to accept the dictates of Germany. We should be at Hitler's mercy. We should cease to be a great power. We should lose our overseas possessions."

NEW METHOD DISCOVERED TO KEEP SILVER

CAMBRIDGE, England, Sept. 14.—Three Cambridge scientists claim they have discovered a process which will prevent silver from tarnishing.

The trio—Dr. G. J. Thomas and Dr. L. E. Price, metallurgists, with the advice of Dr. U. R. Evans—have found a means of covering silver with a hard but invisible film. The new alloy contains one per cent aluminum. It was evolved after three years research work.

Further research is necessary before the wear-resisting properties of the alloy can be determined.

BENNETT NOT IN FAVOR OF SWEEPSTAKES

OTTAWA, Sept. 14—Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett, former Conservative leader, believes legislation of sweepstakes would be "disastrous" to Canada.

He so informed the Ottawa presbytery of the United Church Tuesday.

In a letter, Mr. Bennett said legislation of sweepstakes "would be disastrous to the Canadian people and to the nation itself. I still cling to the old fashioned view that we can't give parliamentary support to gambling."

WINNIPEG, Sept. 14—Ewart H. Morgan, principal of Earl Grey school, has issued an order that no girl was to appear in his school with her face "plastered with cosmetics" unless she had her parents' approval.

The order was issued Monday and late Tuesday the principal said none of the girls brought the required note of approval from parents.

Some who wore lipstick before Mr. Morgan's order have stopped using it and said they "didn't mind." Others have subdued their makeup considerably but haven't discontinued use of lipstick entirely.

DEWEY TO AGAIN ASK QUESTION JUDGE WRONG

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—The question which moved Supreme Court Justice Ferdinand Pecora to declare a mistrial for James J. Hines will be repeated by District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey when the Tammany district leader stands trial again on charges he provided political protection for the Dutch Schultz policy racket.

Dewey's aides made this clear Tuesday as they emphasized their conviction the district attorney had not erred legally in asking the 14-word question which Justice Pecora characterized as "fatally prejudicial" to Hines' fundamental rights.

Justice Pecora, recognizing that his decision had been criticized in some quarters, declared a reversal would have resulted had the case gone to the jury and Hines been found guilty. The expense, he said, would have been greater in the case of a re-trial that in a mistrial.

Fire Prevention Week Announced For October 9-15

OTTAWA, Sept. 14—A proclamation published Tuesday in an extra edition of the Canada Gazette announced the period from Oct. 9 to 15 of this year will be fire prevention week "to impress upon the citizens the national importance of safeguarding life and property from loss by fire."

It was urged that dwellings and other buildings be inspected and cleaned of rubbish to reduce fire hazards and maintain health and safety. Fire drills were recommended for schools, institutions, large stores and factories.

French Political Prisoners Desire To Serve Country

PARIS, Sept. 14.—"Political" prisoners, accused of planning to start a revolution in France, asked Premier Daladier Tuesday to mobilize them if war comes.

From prison, where they are awaiting trial on charges of participating in a revolutionary plot of the C.S.A.R. organization, they wrote:

"We put ourselves at your disposal for all military or technical duties in mobilization measures, now or in the future."

WIDE CHANGES IN DOMINION'S DEFENCE UNITS

Serious Situation In Europe Speeds Up Reorganization Armed Forces

By THOS. WAYLING

Exclusive to Edmonton Bulletin

OTTAWA, Sept. 14.—The critical situation in Europe is speeding up the reorganization of Canada's defence forces. The navy and air forces have been made over but the military setup has not been completed.

Maj. General T. V. Anderson, D.S.O., now in England on special duty, will succeed Maj. General Ashton as chief of the general staff. It had been expected that the appointment would not be made until next year, but events have moved faster than was anticipated. General Anderson takes over in succession to a line of distinguished Canadian soldiers.

The famous Lieut. General Arthur Currie was chief of the general staff, Maj. General J. H. MacBrien succeeded then Maj. General A. L. McNaughton and Maj. General Ashton.

PLAN REJECTED

There have been attempts in the past to merge the three services, army, navy and air, under one chief, but the plan has been definitely rejected.

General Anderson will have charge of the military forces, Rear Admiral P. W. Nelles the navy, and Vice Air Marshal Croil the air forces.

The defence council under direction of Hon. Ian Mackenzie as minister of national defence, will have supreme charge.

VOLUNTARY AID

The minister will have the voluntary aid and advice of the new advisory defence council. The latter will have no authority nor responsibility, the real command resting with the minister and defence council.

The defence council which is responsible to the minister (and the minister to parliament) for Canada's defence, includes the minister, the deputy minister, Maj.-Gen. L. R. Lafleche; the chief of general staff, Maj.-Gen. Ashton; the chief of naval staff, Rear Admiral P. W. Nelles; Senior Air Officer, Air Vice-Marshal G. M. Croil; the Adjutant General, Brig. H. H. Matthews; the Quartermaster General, Brig. H. F. H. Hertzberg; the Master General of Ordnance, Maj.-Gen. A. C. Caldwell, and the Judge Advocate General, Col. Reg. Orde.

PROMOTED RECENTLY

Most of these officers are spending their first year on the defence council, having been promoted to their new ranks in the Mackenzie re-organization of the forces. All had distinguished records in army, navy and air during the Great War, and most of them have taken special courses in order to keep posted on the newest defence developments.

People of Prague Hoarding Food In Case of Warfare

British United Press

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia, Sept. 14.—The people of Prague are quietly hoarding canned goods and bottled drinks against any possible war shortage.

Unwilling to admit that war may be imminent, Czech housewives nevertheless are unostentatiously carrying home armsful of canned corned beef, beans and prager ham, at though stocking up for a weekend party. Actually they realize they are preparing against a blockade but will not admit it.

Steamship Line Held Blameless In B.C. Dock Fire

VANCOUVER, Sept. 14.—Mr. Justice A. M. Manson in supreme court here Tuesday exonerated Canadian National Steamships Ltd., of negligence in a fire which destroyed its docks here on Aug. 30, 1930, and dismissed an action to recover $13,466 damages from the company.

The claim was made in a suit of M. DesBrisay and Company, Vancouver brokers, for damages to 1,588 cases of salmon lost in the fire.

The suit was one of 14 actions against the steamship company for a total of $48,000.

New Minesweeper Reaches Montreal

MONTREAL, Sept. 14—One of Canada's new minesweepers, H.M.C.S. Fundy, has arrived here from Collingwood, Ont., under command of Lt.-Commander J. Roger Roy. The ship will act as an ice-breaker and naval unit based at Halifax. The Fundy, one of four minesweepers, cost $250,000.

DETROIT, Sept. 14.—For the first time in 15 years, George McKenna has passed through the hay fever season with nary a sniffle or sneeze. He attributes his immunity to a 40-day fast he undertook last March following the example of his sick dog.

SHORE LEAVES BRITISH CREW ARE CANCELLED

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 14.—Commander of H.M.S. York Tuesday cancelled shore leaves and issued orders to stand by for instant departure. The British cruiser is enroute to her West Indies base after a summer cruise to British Columbia waters.

Unless further instructions are received from the British admiralty the York will leave Thursday for San Diego. Vice-Admiral Sir Sidney Meyrick, commanding the York, said sailors would be required to remain aboard during the week's scheduled visit there.
